SIXTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

Love
each other as I have loved you.
John 15:12

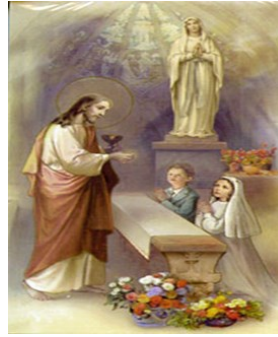

I Have Called You Friends

Jesus considers the people close to him friends. They belong to his inner circle. They have stood by him. They have shown interest in his teachings. They may not be the most intelligent or most religious people in society, but Jesus holds them dear. They are his intimate friends. Jesus will show his intimate love for them by laying down his life for them.

On the part of the apostles, as friends of Jesus, they have to love one another. The love they have been enjoying since they followed Jesus must be lived among themselves as a community. They should show mature and reciprocal love for one another. They are all adults and have been trained day and night to love. Among the people, they are the ones who know Jesus best, his mind and his heart. They can represent him best. Soon they will be sent to evangelize.

In the First Reading, we see Peter in the house of Cornelius, a pagan. He is sent there to evangelize. Through his preaching, the whole household responds to God's grace. They become followers of Christ. They even receive the Holy Spirit before their baptism. Peter concludes that God loves all people. God does not play favorites. The friendship of Jesus extends to all.

The Second Reading backs up the theme of love in the Gospel. It repeats the reciprocal element of love. Love is fostered in the community. Without love in their relationships, people will never know God.

Congratulations to Our First Holy Communicants!

Today we are celebrating the First Holy Communion for 15 of our children at the 9:00 a.m. Mass.

It is such a joy to see our young parishioners receive Holy Communion for the first time. Our Congratulations to them and their families during this very special time. We also want to thank their teachers, Eleanor Cruz, Denise Cruz and Jolene Manglona for preparing them for this Sacrament.

God Bless You All!

Bible Reading Marathon

Thank you to our parishioners who participated in the Bible Reading Marathon which was a public continuous reading of the Holy Scripture from Genesis 1:1 through Revelation 22:21.

Simply Stewardship

Jesus' commandment is that His disciples love one another, even to the point of laying down their lives, if necessary. What gifts of myself — my skills and talents, my time and resources — will best demonstrate my love for God's people?
