TWENTY-FIFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Who Is The Greatest?

As they return to their headquarters in Capernaum, the disciples argue who among them is the greatest. The expected answer is Peter because he gave the correct answer when asked about the identity of Jesus. He is also the spokesman of the group, the Jesus pays attention to him.

But Jesus give an unexpected answer. The greatest among them is the last of all and the servant of all. The greatest does not think he is God's favorite. He is unassuming. He does not expect he should be the leader. He serves everyone in the group. Jesus redefines the meaning of greatness, presenting different criteria.

We can expand the qualifications of being the greatest through the other readings.

From the First Reading, we learn that the greatest can be the just one who counteracts the evil-doers. He disturbs them. He does not allow them to spread evil. Without fear, he confronts them. For this they try to destroy him, but God takes care of him.

The Second Reading describes the greatest disciple as one who has conquered his passion, his greed and anger. He has self-mastery. He is not ruled by likes and dislikes.

So any person, not just one, can be the greatest if the person serves the community and has high moral values. He does not compromise with evil.

For the greatest the world looks at the strongest, the richest, the most powerful, and the most influential. The greatest dictates what others should do and suppresses those who attempt to resist.

Christians must not be self-conscious of their blessedness. They should never think they are better than others. They should rather follow Jesus, the greatest leader who comes not "to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many" (Mk 10:45).
