OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, KING OF THE UNIVERSE

A Kingdom Not of This World

“My kingdom does not belong to this world,” Jesus tells Pilate who is investigating him.

Pilate hears from the people that Jesus is the King of the Jews. Pilate must be laughing for being dragged into this mock trial. So what if Jesus is the King of the Jews? As a matter of policy, the emperor allows kings to rule in his realm as long as they remain under his authority. Kings are like little princes. A powerful person can be a king of a nation or a part of it. King Herod, in the other gospels, is a tetrarch, whose realm is only in the Galilee and Perea.

Jesus admits he is the King of the Jews, but his claim should be understood differently. He is not the king they impure him to be. The evangelist John in his time is making a theological description of Jesus. The kingdom of Jesus is not earthly.

The First Reading tells us that the Son of Man comes from heaven. He must be a king because it talks about his dominion and kingship having no end.

The Second Reading acknowledges Christ as the ruler (archon) of kings (basileis) of the earth. He is not an emperor (sebatos), associated with brutal and evil rule.

As Catholics, we acknowledge Christ the King as a spiritual leader sent by the Father to take charge of us and the world. Our Church has taught us to understand his kingship and reign according to the sacred traditions.

Are we willing to join our King's fight for the triumph of good? Submission to his authority is the business of our religion. Without obedience and loyalty, we fail as God's subjects.
