THIRD SUNDAY OF LENT

Repentance and Faith

“If you do not repent, you will all perish.” With these words, Jesus strikes fear in the hearts of his hearers and in us. He uses tough love to call us to repentance, especially during this season of Lent.

Repentance and faith are the fruits that Jesus expects us to produce in response to his preaching. The parable of the Barren Fig Tree shows that Jesus is not after applause or outward show of devotion (even though these are good in themselves). He wants bunga (fruit), not bongga (outward show). And repentance is a deep change: a change of mind (our way of seeing things), of heart (our attitude toward things), and of behavior (our actions).

Without this deep change, the apostle Paul tell us, even if the Israelites experienced the same things (being under the cloud and passing through the sea), “God was not pleased with most of them” (Second Reading).

We must pray for true repentance, and not allow this precious Lenten time to be spent only on doing devotional acts, rituals, and spiritual exercises, all of which are good but are not enough. For if we are content with these and do not repent, then after Lent we will go back to our usual ways and usual selves.
