SECOND SUNDAY OF ADVENT

SECOND WEEK OF ADVENT

O Lord, stir up our hearts that we may prepare for Thy only begotten Son that through His coming we may be made worthy to serve Thee with pure minds through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Preparing the Way of the Lord

John the Baptist preaches in the desert, "Prepare the way of the Lord, make straight his paths," John fulfills the prophecy of Isaiah.

Preparation, which translates into repentance, comes as a personal response to the coming of the Kingdom of God. It is no longer I who rule over my life, but God, I belong to God, to God's Kingdom, not to my self. I behave and relate to others according to God's expectations.

John the Baptist has a large audience. People from the city of Jerusalem and the whole of Judea and the region around the Jordan come for baptism. John welcomes them all. But when he sees the Pharisees and Sadducees coming for the same purpose, John challenges them to produce evidence of their conversion. They must be sincere. His baptism is not for the records, not for show, but should signify their turning around from old and cunning ways like those of the serpent that made Adam and Eve fall. They must shed off their hypocrisy.

Repentant people readily accept Jesus when he speaks. They will not distract others by their philosophizing, justification, or grandstanding. They will examine their conscience where they have fallen short of this love. Jesus does not find a hard time driving his point to them. They easily learn what God of the Church wants from them.
