

Glow Sticks: Throwing a night time affair? You're going to need some lights. Even if you're not throwing a rave, get the party started with some glow sticks while they simultaneously light the couple's exit path.

Ribbon Wands: This couple was sent off with ribbon wands that were beautifully displayed at the wedding's entrance. These are something you could totally DIY.

These hand-stamped fabric flags won't harm the environment, and they double as a sweet keepsake for the guests.

Lavender: If you're looking for something non-traditional but still lovely, lavender is the way to go — even if just for the pretty scent alone. Those floral paper cones aren't too shabby, either!
