FIFTH SUNDAY OF LENT
SAVED BY GOD'S LOVE

Because the people broke the old covenant, God promised a new covenant, not in the blood of oxen and other animals, but in the blood of the Son, Jesus Christ. This new covenant, foreseen from afar by Jeremiah and the prophets, was not to be engraved on stone, or written on paper, but carved on our hearts, so that we might know God intimately. Not by keeping many laws are we to be saved, but by the love of God, living and real in our hearts through the sacrifice of Christ.

Our Eucharist is the pledge of that indwelling of Christ, and of our response of praise and thanksgiving to God for the mercy, love, and kindness shown to us in forgiving our sins and cleansing our hearts of everything evil. God issues this invitation to intimacy by offering us the chance to have our sufferings transformed into the perfect love of the Savior, who first loved us.

A Column by Fr. Tom

Almsgiving: What’s an Alm?

So far this Lent, we have explored two of the three main practices of Lent – prayer and fasting. That leaves us only with an exploration of almsgiving. Although some mention of almsgiving has come up in previous columns, let’s dig a little deeper.

I suppose it might be good to begin by answering the question that is contained in the title of this column: what is an alm? The word “alm” comes from the Old English ælmesse and ultimately from the Greek ἐλεομσή, a derivative of ἐλεος, which means pity or mercy. In fact the term ἐλεος is the same root from which we derive eleison, such as “Kyrie eleison,” or “Lord, have mercy,” from the Penitential Rite in the Mass.

So what is almsgiving? It is giving mercy or pity to another. The word “pity” in the religious context is more akin to compassion (entering into another’s pain) than sympathy (feeling sorry for another).

We are called to give alms during Lent, because it allows us to get out of our self-consumption to not only find interest in another, but also to feel and to respond to the pain of another. This is why, in previous columns, we related giving food to the poor to the hunger pangs we might feel from fasting. Almsgiving requires more than feeling; it requires that we act from those feelings. After all, it is called almsgiving. We often think of almsgiving as giving to the poor (as mentioned above), and this is surely one of the great ways that we can show compassion for another. However, almsgiving can take on many forms. Who are the people in your life that would benefit from your mercy or compassion? For example, do you have a friend who is lonely? Do you know someone who would benefit more from a dinner together with you than a gift card to Publix? Does a family member, including your spouse or child, need a reminder that you love her or him? Do you have a relative who needs your forgiveness? Is there someone from whom you need to ask forgiveness? Can you make an effort during the remainder of Lent to repair a relationship in your life, or maybe mediate the reconciliation of two people you know who haven’t spoken for years? All of these things are also almsgiving. They require your feeling compassion for another and acting on that compassion to ease the pain of another.

Giving alms is a Christian, Christ-like, action. We often relate prayer and fasting during Lent to Jesus’ 40 days in the desert, but what about the rest of Jesus’ ministry? He prayed, he fasted, but he also gave alms [felt compassion]. All we need do is look to any one of the stories of healing done by Jesus. For example, in the case of the paralyzed man who was lowered through a roof by his friends [Matt 9:2-8], Jesus reached out to the man and his friends, he forgave the man’s sins, and he healed the man’s pain (cured his paralysis). That is three distinct ways that Jesus gave alms to that man and his friends. During the rest of Lent (and the rest of our lives), let’s look beyond ourselves and do what Christ did – He gave alms to relieve the pains of others.

Our special Mass Intentions book has been filled for 2018. The 2019 Book, for Masses to be celebrated in our Church, will be available beginning Monday, April 2nd, the day after Easter.

The Sacred Triduum refers to the three days before Easter. They include Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Holy Saturday. On Holy Thursday, we commemorate the last Supper and Christ’s Passion and approaching Crucifixion. Good Friday is a solemn time in which we remember the suffering and death on the Cross of Jesus Christ. On Holy Saturday we observe the Easter Vigil and anticipate Christ’s triumphant Resurrection from the dead.

Let us observe these days as a special time of prayer and meditation.

Scott Freudenthal, Army

Merciful Father, You desire the welfare of all your children. Stretch out Your protecting arm over our men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and so Do Your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
