Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Weekly Miracle

This week marks the beginning of a kind of “liturgical detour.” We have been listening to Saint Mark’s Gospel during this liturgical year (Year B). Today we begin to hear a long section from John’s Gospel, starting with the miracle of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes. This miracle story is a prelude to the Lord’s statements that we will begin hearing in a few weeks, in which Jesus refers to himself as the “bread of life.” Each week we witness a miracle at Mass. We do not see a multiplication of loaves before us. What our eyes of faith allow us to see is the miracle of the transformation of common elements—bread and wine—into the Lord’s Body and Blood. Once we have received the Lord, the multiplication begins, for in the Eucharist we are strengthened to multiply our efforts to feed the poor, shelter the homeless, and bring comfort to the despairing.

To prepare for the Readings of August 4/5

First Reading — I will rain down bread from heaven for you (Exodus 16:2-4, 12-15).
Psalm — The Lord gave them bread from heaven (Psalm 78).
Second Reading — Put on the new self that has been created in God’s way (Ephesians 4:17, 20-24).
Gospel — Whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst (John 6:24-35).
Confirmation - It’s a Real Slap in the Face

Perhaps the title of today’s column brings to mind the reality of the Sacrament of Confirmation for some who were confirmed years ago. In the past, the Bishop actually used to give the newly confirmed person a soft tap on the cheek. This gesture harkened back to medieval times. When a man became a soldier, he was marked with the sign of the leader and slapped as a sign of maturity. The newly confirmed person becomes a “soldier of Christ” [a disciple] during their Confirmation. Today, they are only marked with the sign of the Spirit, which is the Sacred Chrism, the oil used to anoint the newly confirmed. The “slap” has been removed from the Confirmation rite.

However, the above title should also bring to mind the colloquialism of waking oneself up with “a slap in the face.” Confirmation should alert us to the fact that we cannot be passive about our faith. Confirmation reminds us that we are called to take responsibility for our own faith life, and to live it out actively every day.

Many a priest or Religious Education teacher cringes at the fact that young people may refer to Confirmation as “graduation from Religious Education;” however, I believe that, in a way, it is graduation. Confirmation is graduation in a similar way as we have graduations in high school or college. These graduations are not so much graduation “from,” but graduation “to” something more. In the same way, Confirmation is not so much graduation from Religious Education, but graduation to a greater level of involvement in one’s faith. It is time for the student to become the life-long learner, the disciple! [cf. Looking Through Stained Glass, April 15, “A Catholic Community that Grows Disciples”]

Confirmation is the second of the three Sacraments of Initiation, along with Baptism and Eucharist. Last week, I introduced the Sacrament of Confirmation saying that it is “the enrichment of the Sacrament of Baptism.” The Catechism of the Catholic Church [CCC] explains it this way, “by the sacrament of Confirmation, [the baptized] are more perfectly bound to the Church and are enriched with a special strength of the Holy Spirit. Hence they are, as true witnesses of Christ, more strictly obliged to spread and defend the faith by word and deed.” [CCC 1285 and Lumen Gentium 11] Doesn’t that sound like a good definition for a disciple?

For those who are baptized as infants, the Sacrament of Confirmation comes at a time when they are more able to begin taking responsibility for their own faith, and, hopefully, more ready to accept the responsibility, of their own free will, of being disciples. For those who are confirmed as adults during the Easter Vigil, it is easy to see how the Sacrament of Confirmation completes the grace of the Sacrament of Baptism. [cf. CCC 1285]

Next week, we will begin our discussion of the Sacraments of Healing, beginning with the Sacrament of Reconciliation. We will save the third Sacrament of Initiation, Eucharist, for later and include it within a larger discussion of the Mass.

Merciful Father, You desire the welfare of all your children. Strengthen our men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and so do Your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
