\[Thank\ you\ for\ dropping\ your\ dollar\ bills\ and\ loose\ change\ in\ the\ poor\ boxes.\ \ God\ bless\ you!\]
In the ancient world, “household” was a wide-reaching concept. When Joshua today speaks of his household serving the Lord, he meant not just those people who lived inside his walls or those related to him by blood or marriage; he meant slaves or servants and their families, and anyone indebted to him in any way. Even his livestock and other possessions would be consecrated to service of God. In our world, we value allowing individuals their freedom to choose how they live, and wouldn’t think of offering our pets to the service of God. But, as we discern our vocations as disciples baptized into Christ, we can come to realize how far-ranging the “households” of our lives still are: how we act toward our spouses, children, roommates or anyone we live with; our behavior with neighbors; or in public as we encounter many “strangers” every day in stores or traffic who suddenly are “next door” to us. How can we use our time, our resources, or gifts for selfless reasons rather than personal gain? No matter what life our witness to the Good News calls us to, we all have a “household” that must be consecrated to service of the Lord our God.

To prepare for the Readings of September 1/2

First Reading — For what great nation is there that has gods so close to it as the Lord, our God, is to us? (Deuteronomy 4:1-2, 6-8).

Psalm — The one who does justice will live in the presence of the Lord (Psalm 15).

Second Reading — Religion that is pure is this: to care for orphans and widows in their affliction (James 1:17-18, 21b-22, 27).

Gospel — This people honors me with their lips, but their hearts are far from me (Mark 7:1-8, 14-15, 21-23).
Two people find one another and, after some time, they believe that they want to spend the rest of their lives together. They decide to make a commitment to one another and prepare for their marriage.

Marriage is one of the most beautiful and interesting Sacraments in our Church. As Catholics, we are intimately aware that marriage is so much more than a ring, a ceremony and a party. Marriage is the self-gift of two people to each other. It is the gift of oneself for the life of the other. The Catechism of the Catholic Church [CCC] states it this way, “The matrimonial covenant, by which a man and a woman establish between themselves a partnership of the whole of life, is by its nature ordered toward the good of the spouses and the procreation and education of offspring; this covenant between baptized persons has been raised by Christ the Lord to the dignity of a sacrament.” [CCC 1601] It is interesting that the Catechism should use the term “covenant”. A covenant is stronger than a contract. A covenant involves matters of life and death and usually lasts for the life of the parties. In respect of this arrangement, the Catechism uses the term “a partnership of the whole of life.” This term represents two realities of marriage. The first is that the matrimonial covenant lasts for the lifetime of the spouses. The second is that it encompasses all of their lives. A true marriage involves the entirety of each of the spouses’ life. They do not offer merely a facet of their lives to one another, but the whole of it.

This discussion leads us to another interesting fact about the Sacrament of Marriage. In the Sacrament of Marriage, it is the spouses who are the ministers of the Sacrament. “According to Latin tradition, the spouses as ministers of Christ's grace mutually confer upon each other the Sacrament of Matrimony by expressing their consent before the Church.” [CCC 1623] The priest or deacon, as a representative of the Church, is a witness to the exchange of matrimonial consent. Then, why get married in the Church? It is in exchanging their consent before Christ and His Church that the marriage bond is raised to the level of a sacrament, and with the sacrament comes the grace that is proper to that sacrament. “[The] grace proper to the sacrament of Matrimony is intended to perfect the couple’s love and to strengthen their indissoluble unity. By this grace they ‘help one another to attain holiness in their married life and in welcoming and educating their children.’” [CCC 1641] The “indissoluble unity” of the marriage bond becomes a sign of the love of God for His people and of Christ for His Church. “Christian marriage in its turn becomes an efficacious sign [of] the sacrament of the covenant of Christ and the Church.” [CCC 1617] St. Paul further elaborates this reality, “Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her…For this reason a man shall leave his father and mother and be joined to his wife, and the two shall become one.” [Eph. 5:25, 31]

Next week, we will conclude our discussion of the vocations of life, and then move on to a discussion of the Sacrament of the Eucharist and the Mass.
Dear Sisters and Brothers in the Lord,

Most recently we have again been shocked, distressed and disheartened about the matter of clerical sexual abuse of minors. The situation which led to the resignation of former Cardinal Theodore McCarrick, the growing revelations of sexual abuse in other parts of the world and the distressing release of the Pennsylvania Grand Jury clerical sexual abuse report have almost simultaneously made evident the very sinful side of the Church through those who have failed a life of service to the Gospel by an abuse of office, authority and trust. The matter has raised many questions which need to be answered. It has also caused intense pain and justified anger like that of the Lord who overturned the tables of the money changers in the temple and cast them out. However, anger which fuels itself on anything less than a true passion for conversion only further destroys.

Many of us in the Diocese of Palm Beach feel the pain, mistrust and anger at this time especially in view of our own difficult history. However, I wish to assure the faithful of our Diocese that we ardently continue our commitment to the protection of our young and vulnerable members as a priority of priorities. We have been in full compliance with the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People since its promulgation by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in 2002. Every effort, vigilance and expense will continue to be utilized in every parish, school and level of our diocesan life in this regard. We continue to urge anyone who has experienced abuse by clergy or any church personnel to report this to us and to the police no matter how long ago it may have occurred. We are concerned about protecting the vulnerable and not ourselves. Even the Pennsylvania Grand Jury report indicated that, despite the manner in which cases of clerical sexual abuse were handled previously, since the implementation of the Charter, almost no cases have been found. That does not excuse past sins but it certainly gives us hope for the future and a perspective in dealing with anger and pain which aims at conversion.

As we face this troubling reality, we do so at that time of the year when we have just celebrated the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary. She is a good one for us to turn to as she is a source of comfort as well as the model of what the Church is meant to be. Mary is the person who, through the special grace of God, lived a life without sin and she graces the sinful Church with a sinless existence that gives us hope for continued purification, growth and striving for perfection. Mary also reveals that it is holiness, not corporate success, which is the priority for the Church. Saint John Paul II was fond of referring to the teaching expressed in the Catechism of the Catholic Church that the Marian role precedes the Petrine role. Mary comes before Peter and the apostles. It was Mary who shared with the wayward and distracted apostles what she treasured in her heart. As the hierarchy struggles to continue to right the wrongs of the past and to continue to protect young people in the future, we especially need to look to Mary with prayer as the center of our ministries.

As a bishop of the Church, I offer my profound apologies to those so deeply affected by clerical sexual abuse. I assure all of my continued efforts to protect young and vulnerable persons in accord with the Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People. I also wish to thank our dedicated and competent staff, as well as our priests, deacons and faithful for their commitment and assistance in protecting our young people. I realize that words are not enough and I commit my continued efforts in working with the Conference of Bishops for ongoing reform.

Let us pray for healing, for continued conversion and for an open heart to the Lord like that of Mary, Queen of the Apostles, the patroness of our Diocese.

With every prayerful wish, I am

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Most Reverend Gerald M. Barbarito
Bishop of Palm Beach
Please Pray for Priests

Dear Lord, we pray that the Blessed Mother wrap her mantle around your priests and through her intercession strengthen them for their ministry. We pray that Mary will guide your priests to follow her own words, "Do whatever He tells you" (Jn 2:5).

May your priests have the heart of St. Joseph, Mary's most chaste spouse. May the Blessed Mother's own pierced heart inspire them to embrace all who suffer at the foot of the cross. May your priests be holy, filled with the fire of your love seeking nothing but your greater glory and the salvation of souls. Amen.

St. John Vianney, pray for us.

Merciful Father, You desire the safety of all your children. Stretch out Your protecting arm over all men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and so do Your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
