TWENTY SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME
THE HIGHEST LAW

From time to time, newspapers and magazines will offer, as an item of “filler,” various laws that are still on the books but seem silly to us in our day and age. In one California city, it is illegal to have two indoor bathtubs in one house. Clean water, a precious commodity when the law was written, is now readily available, so the law seems silly. But the human value of protecting and preserving precious resources is still around, evident in many conservation laws that seem sensible to us. So it is with the laws of religious tradition. What Jesus scorns today is others’ attitude toward ritual laws, an attitude that becomes nearly idolatrous when laws are observed for their own sake. Jesus teaches that observation of external ritual laws is of value only when they are emblems of our internal disposition toward the will of God. Our whole lives must follow the one ultimate law of God: to love God completely and to love neighbor entirely. Roman Catholicism is a tradition rich with customs, traditions, and even laws. As we continue to listen to the voice of Christ, we must always look into our own hearts and underneath our ritual practices to make sure that love of God and love of neighbor are what we prize above all.

To prepare for the Readings of September 8/9

First Reading — Be strong, fear not! Here is your God (Isaiah 35:4-7a).
Psalm — Praise the Lord, my soul! (Psalm 146).
Second Reading — Show no partiality as you adhere to the faith in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ (James 2:1-5).

What About the Rest of Us?

In the last two columns, we discussed the Sacraments of Vocation – Holy Orders and Matrimony. However, these two Sacraments do not cover all of the Vocations to which God calls individuals. In particular, there are many people who are called to consecrated life, and those who are called to the single life.

Let’s back up a little bit before we discuss these specific vocations to a state in life. Through the virtue of our baptism, we are all called to live the universal call to holiness. The Catechism of the Catholic Church [CCC] states this universal call in all facets of life this way: “Lay people share in Christ's priesthood: ever more united with him, they exhibit the grace of Baptism and Confirmation in all dimensions of their personal family, social and ecclesial lives, and so fulfill the call to holiness addressed to all the baptized.” [CCC 941] In Lumen Gentium [LG], the Dogmatic Constitution on the Church, the writers state, “Fortified by so many and such powerful means of salvation, all the faithful, whatever their condition or state, are called by the Lord, each in his own way, to that perfect holiness whereby the Father Himself is perfect.” [LG 11, cf. MT 5:48]

If we are all called to holiness in life, it is in how we live out that call that we find our vocation. As mentioned above, some of those vocations are marked by a Sacrament. Also, some vocations are marked by a special ceremony or rite in which the person vows to live their holiness through the evangelical counsels – vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. Included in this group are those who are vowed religious brothers and sisters, as well as those in secular institutes and societies of apostolic life. [cf. CCC 920-21, 925-29] These groups generally live out the evangelical counsels as a community. Also, included are those who choose to follow the evangelical counsels as consecrated virgins and widows, who generally live out their consecration as individuals, but may gather into associations. [CCC 922-24] All of the above named groups have a “public” ceremony or rite in which they accept the evangelical counsels.

However, there are some people who are not called to these states of life, but are called to live out their call to holiness in life as single persons in the world. They may not have a formal Sacrament or rite, but in the depths of their hearts, they have accepted to live the life to which God has called them. “Already destined for him through Baptism, the person who surrenders himself to the God he loves above all else thereby consecrates himself more intimately to God's service and to the good of the whole Church.” [CCC 945]

Whether vows are publicly taken or the commitment is made in the secret of one’s heart, the availability of the single person gives them the possibility of greater openness to God and to others. “To follow and imitate Christ more nearly and to manifest more clearly his self-emptying is to be more deeply present to one's contemporaries, in the heart of Christ.” [CCC 932]

Next week, we begin our discussion of the Sacrament of the Eucharist and an extended look at the Mass.
September 1, 2018

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

Next weekend, September 8 and 9, the Diocese of Palm Beach will have a special collection to benefit the Respect Life Ministry and Migrant Ministry. These ministries seek to protect the sacredness and uniqueness of God’s people.

Specifically, the Respect Life Ministry program produces materials to help Catholics understand and become engaged in supporting the God-given dignity of each and every person, which naturally leads to protecting the gift of every life.

The mission of the Migrant Ministry program is to serve and advocate for refugees, asylees, migrants, unaccompanied children, and victims of human trafficking. These individuals typically have suffered great loss, including their homes, livelihoods, possessions and oftentimes families, therefore needing assistance to start over in a new environment.

As we prepare for Respect Life Month in October, let us prayerfully reflect upon the 2018-2019 annual theme chosen by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops, “Every Life: Cherished, Chosen, Sent.” This reminds us of God’s promise to value and respect all of humanity. As followers of Jesus Christ and members of His Church, we seek to protect and promote the sanctity of the unborn, the poor, the unemployed, the migrant, the marginalized, the imprisoned, the sick, the persecuted and the vulnerable. When society fails to respect the life and dignity of innocent children in the womb, that same society soon learns to disrespect all life.

I encourage you to read about the Respect Life Ministry and Migrant Ministry to fully understand the great work that these programs offer to our brothers and sisters in Christ, and support them with your time, talent, and treasure. Together let us prayerfully and compassionately respond in faith to those who cry out to God in desperation as they seek a safe place for themselves and their families.

With gratitude for your continued generosity and every prayerful wish, I am

Sincerely yours in Christ,
