GOD’S SUMMONS

Confronted with God’s power and majesty, the first response of the prophet Isaiah was to acknowledge his sinfulness. “Woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips,” he said aloud. Likewise, with his empty fishing nets dramatically filled at Jesus’ instruction, Peter fell to his knees and cried out, “Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man.” Next, Peter got up. He docked his boats then left to follow Jesus.

Isaiah also had a dramatic change of heart. When he heard the Lord say, “Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?” Isaiah answered, “Here I am, send me.”

We are summoned daily by the Risen Lord. We are reminded of the saving power of the gospel and know in our heart of hearts that, as St. Paul wrote, believing in anything else won’t lead to anything. What will it take for you to move past your sinfulness? What will it take for you to get off your knees? What will it take for you to bring to dock what is unimportant and to accept your call to be God’s messenger?

What is Love Anyway?

This coming Thursday, many people will recognize a holiday that celebrates love, Valentine’s Day. This holiday mostly celebrates the idea of romance, part of what true love can be. How many of us would think of chocolates, flowers and jewelry as true love? Sure, they are all wonderful and they express the pleasures of this life. However, true love takes us beyond this life. True love helps us to enter into the life of God.

So, what is true love? True love goes beyond gift-giving. Hopefully, we understand that gift-giving is a mere symbol of the love and care that we have for another. However, there is one gift that expresses true love, and that is the gift of the self. One great example of this type of self-gift is the Sacrament of Marriage. In Marriage, the spouses give themselves completely one to another. [cf. Looking Through Stained Glass, “She Said, ‘Yes!’ – Ok, Now What?”, August 26, 2018] In the Catechism of the Catholic Church [CCC], we learn that through marriage, “a man and a woman establish between themselves a partnership of the whole of life.” [CCC 1601] In other words, they give themselves “wholly” to one another. The value and the goal of all romantic love is this type of self-gift.

Spousal love obtains its great dignity in part because it both emulates and participates in the love of God, who is love. “Christian marriage in its turn becomes an efficacious sign [of] the sacrament of the covenant of Christ and the Church.” [CCC 1617] Christ gave Himself completely for the Church. In fact, we should understand that the Church was not born until Christ gave His life for it.

Besides spouses, there are other examples of true love too. Certainly one can find examples of self-gift in the love a parent has for her child, or a friend might have for another friend. Many a good parent gives up his own good in order to provide some good for his child, like a father who takes a second job so that his daughter might attend medical school. Also, a friend may give of their time in order to attend to the needs of a sick friend.

This last example leads us to the kind of self-gift that is usually part of ministry. One can think of the example of Mother Teresa, and how she gave herself completely for the poor. However, we don’t need to be Mother Teresa to show true love in ministry. For example, someone might volunteer to be a lector at Mass, giving of their time to bring the Word of God to life; or they might volunteer to be an Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion, bringing the Eucharistic Jesus to the sick. Another might decide that they would really like to make a difference by bringing food to the poor, perhaps as part of our Van Ministry. These are just some of the myriad examples of acts of true love.

So, if you really want to be someone’s Valentine, if you want to give someone a gift that shows that you truly love them, give them yourself.

Next week, we will begin a study of how true love plays out in our lives, by exploring the fruits of love – the Theological and Cardinal Virtues – and the lapses of love – the Capital Sins.
CATHOLIC SOCIAL

Several themes run through our rich Tradition of Catholic Social Teaching. They include: Life and Dignity of the Human Person; Call to Family, Community, and Participation; Rights and Responsibilities; Option For and With the Poor; Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers; Solidarity; Care for God’s Creation. Some of these themes may sound familiar, others may not. Indeed, “Catholic Social Teaching has been called the Church’s ‘best kept secret’. Yet, from the beginning of time, God's call to justice has been clear. The Law and the Prophets both preserve a deep tradition of social justice in ancient Israel. Jesus himself proclaimed and embodied a society ruled by justice and charity—the Reign of God.” USCCB.org

Challenge Question: Which of the above Catholic Social Teaching Themes are familiar to me? Which ones are new to me that I might challenge myself to learn more about?
