In this third Sunday of our reading from the Sermon on the Plain, Jesus speaks of the inner soul and its outer expression. He uses images as he teaches. He addresses all of us.

Jesus sees a plumb line connecting the soul with the soul’s expression—words and actions. He uses exaggeration to drive home his point. We are urged to clear out the debris that blinds us. He knows that we have an uncanny ability to be blind to our own weaknesses, though they be as big as a board. He knows, too, how willingly we seem to ferret out others’ smallest speck-like flaws.

And this, too, is for our general consumption; solid old goodness and solid old badness will show eventually. The old Latin saying, which echoes Jesus’ images, is true: “What is bred in the bone will out in the flesh.” By and by, the inside will show through. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

To prepare for the Readings of March 9/10

First Reading — God brought us into this land flowing with milk and honey (Deuteronomy 26:4-10).
Psalm — Be with me, Lord, when I am in trouble (Psalm 91).
Second Reading — The word is near you, in your mouth and in your heart (Romans 10:8-13).
Gospel — Filled with the Holy Spirit, Jesus was led into the desert for forty days (Luke 4:1-13).
Life in Christ – Part 2: Envy – It’s Not Easy Being Green

We give thanks to Kermit the Frog for the title of this week’s column. One of the old clichés about today’s topic is “She was green with envy.” It’s certainly not easy being that kind of green. It’s not easy being envious, and yet it is an emotion that a lot of us have struggled with from time to time. Let’s take a look at not just the emotion of envy, but the Capital Sin of Envy.

Last week, we discussed how pride is an often confusing sin, but we might also consider that envy is a confusing sin too. However, envy is not confusing in the same way that pride is. As we discussed last week, there is good pride and sinful pride. There is no such thing as good envy. Where the confusion develops for envy is that it is often confused for jealousy, or rather vice versa. One might say, “I feel jealous that she has a brand new Porsche, and I drive a 1985 Honda.” While jealousy is sometimes used as a synonym for envy, its original definition suggests a different emotion. In the interest of space, perhaps it might be best to explain the difference between the two emotions thus, “Jealousy is fear is losing something you have, and envy is coveting what someone else has.” In using the word “coveting” in the last sentence, one might recall that the word “covet” is used rather prominently in the 10 Commandments, specifically in the Ninth and Tenth Commandments.

Now, we can begin to see where the Capital Sin of Envy engenders other sins. In the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC), we read: “Envy is a Capital Sin. It refers to the sadness at the sight of another's goods and the immoderate desire to acquire them for oneself, even unjustly. When it wishes grave harm to a neighbor it is a mortal sin.” [CCC, 2539] The Catechism then goes on to quote Pope St. Gregory the Great regarding how the Capital Sin of Envy can lead to other sins. “From envy are born hatred, detraction, calumny, joy caused by the misfortune of a neighbor, and displeasure caused by his prosperity.” [Moralia in Job 31,45]

While the above sins are born of Envy, Envy itself is born of Pride. The Catechism states, “Envy represents a form of sadness and therefore a refusal of charity; the baptized person should struggle against it by exercising good will. Envy often comes from Pride; the baptized person should train himself to live in humility.” [CCC, 2540] We may remember from last week’s column that Pride is elevating oneself above another. It is seeing oneself as greater than another. Pride teaches us that we are more deserving of good things. Envy springs from this feeling. It is for this reason that the Catechism teaches us that charity, good will and humility combat the sin of Envy. In Paul’s First Letter to the Corinthians, Paul teaches us, “If [one part of the body] suffers, all the parts suffer with it; if one part is honored, all the parts share its joy.” [1 Cor 12:26] We are called to practice both humility and charity in order to combat the sins that are brought on by the Capital Sin of Envy. We are called to rejoice for the gifts and blessings that God has bestowed on us, but also for the gifts and blessings that He has bestowed on our brothers and sisters.

Next week, we will look at Wrath, another of the Capital Sins, which could spring from Envy gone horribly wrong.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL
Life and Dignity of the Human Person

"All people are created in the image of God and thus, all human life, from conception to natural death, is sacred. God's love for all is the foundation of human dignity. The basic dignity that each person possesses comes from God; therefore all forms of discrimination are always wrong. People take precedence over things and structures. Systems are meant to serve people. And people are meant to serve and care for one another."
USCCB.org

Challenge Question: What are the systems or policies I am aware of that support the dignity of the human person, and what systems or policies attack that dignity?

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

Jesus teaches us in Holy Scripture, “The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest” (Mt. 9:37-38). The journey to become a dedicated priest who will administer the sacraments is an important one, and one that requires your spiritual and financial support. Currently, there are ten seminarians from our Diocese who are dedicating themselves to this important process of understanding their calling.

Next weekend (March 9 and 10) is the annual Diocese of Palm Beach collection for the education of seminarians and the formation of priests. The funds raised in this collection are used to support the cost of tuition, housing, education, and pastoral training of these men and those who will follow them in the future.

Your spiritual and financial support is of great assistance to these young men in their discernment. By your generosity you walk the journey of faith with many future priests and ensure that the sacraments will continue to nourish the faithful for generations to come. Thank you for all that you do through your spiritual and financial support to ensure that the Church will always have worthy laborers at the harvest.

With gratitude for your continued generosity and every prayerful wish, I am

Sincerely yours in Christ,
Most Reverend Gerald M. Barbarito, Bishop of Palm Beach
The Columbiettes, Aux. #12322, would like to invite all parishioners to join us by sharing a Simple Supper of soup and bread on Ash Wednesday after the 5:30 and 7:00 pm Masses, as we begin our Lenten Journey. This event is free to all.

St. Vincent de Paul Society would like to introduce you to a new ministry, The inspiration for this ministry is a childhood friend of Tim Murphy, Tony, a man who tried to live out the Gospel. He would give you the shirt off his back and was full of compassion for others, though he himself battled addiction and homelessness throughout his life. Our mission is to bring dignity to anyone in need - with a shower, a clean set of clothes, and of course some food! To fulfill our mission, we will need to buy a 6-stall shower trailer and truck. To learn more about Tony's story, our ministry, or to help us fulfill our mission, please visit us at www.facebook.com/DTCPB, or contact Kate Devine in the Parish Office, and
