SECOND SUNDAY OF LENT
STAND FIRM IN THE LORD

It is not hard to imagine, in this age of wars, evil groups bent on the destruction of humanity, and political follies, that the words of Saint Paul were so accurate, even for his time. It seems that the world never changes. Paul says, “Many . . . conduct themselves as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their end is their destruction . . . Their minds are occupied with earthly things” (Philippians 3:18, 19). The result is the destruction of innocent people and of the Earth itself. But Paul says to the Philippians, “our citizenship is in heaven, and from it we also await a savior, the Lord Jesus Christ” (3:20). He will “change our lowly body to conform with his glorified body” (3:21). Note that he says “body” rather than “bodies.” He is talking about the whole community of believers, who, following the example of Jesus and of Paul, will come into the glory of God. So “stand firm in the Lord” (4:1).

Readings for the Week

Monday: Dn 9:4b-10; Ps 79:8, 9, 11, 13; Lk 6:36-38
Tuesday: 2 Sm 7:4-5a, 12-14a, 16; Ps 89:2-5, 27, 29; Rom 4:13, 16-18, 22; Mt 1:16, 18-21, 24a or Lk 2:41-51a
Wednesday: Jer 18:18-20; Ps 31:5-6, 14-16; Mt 20:17-28
Thursday: Jer 17:5-10; Ps 1:1-4, 6; Lk 16:19-31
Friday: Gn 37:3-4, 12-13a; 17b-28a; Ps 105:16-21; Mt 21:33-43, 45-46
Saturday: Mi 7:14-15, 18-20; Ps 103:1-4, 9-12; Lk 15:1-3, 11-32

To prepare for the Readings of March 23/24
First Reading — “I have witnessed the affliction of my people in Egypt and have come to rescue them” (Exodus 3:1-8a, 13-15) or Exodus 17:3-7.
Psalm — The Lord is kind and merciful (Psalm 103) or Psalm 95.
Second Reading — Those who think they are standing secure should take care not to fall (1 Corinthians 10:1-6, 10-12) or Romans 5:1-2, 5-8.
Gospel — I shall cultivate the ground around the fig tree and fertilize it; it may bear fruit in the future (Luke 13:1-9) or John 4:5-42 [5-15, 19b-26, 39a, 40-42].

Looking Through Stained Glass

A Column by Fr. Tom

Life in Christ – Part 4: Avarice – Greed is NOT Good

“Earth provides enough to satisfy every man’s needs, but not every man’s greed.”[Mahatma Gandhi] So far, we have considered the Capital Sins of Pride, Envy and Wrath. Pride allows us to believe that we are better than another, Envy inspires us to desire the blessings that another has and Wrath gives us permission to harm another over a perceived injustice. When we consider these three together, they might lead us to the sin of Avarice (more commonly known as greed), which encourages us to take the blessings of another for ourselves. Avarice, coupled with Envy, encourages us to break the Tenth Commandment: “You shall not [covet] your neighbor’s house or field, his male or female slave, his ox or donkey, or anything that belongs to your neighbor.”[DT 5:21b]

Avarice stems from two basic concepts: the desire for power and the philosophy of scarcity. Stemming from the Capital Sin of Pride is the desire for power. Power is often manifested in our society by either status or wealth. As discussed in a previous column, the sin of Pride believes that we are somehow elevated above our brothers and sisters, and therefore, deserving of more than they.[cf. Looking Through Stained Glass, “Life in Christ – Part 2: Pride – Good For You?”, Feb. 24, 2019] Avarice springs from this sort of sinful Pride and works to make it true. The philosophy of scarcity teaches us that there is only so much of any material thing available. If we reference the above quote from Gandhi, we learn that there is enough for everyone. When we couple the desire for power with the philosophy of scarcity, the force of Avarice can become insurmountable.

So what can we do to counteract the temptation to Avarice? We must reference again the Word of the Lord. For some, not wanting to break any of the Ten Commandments is sufficient reason to stand strong against Avarice, the desire for more material goods. Some people need another reason. Let’s turn then to Jesus’ Commandment that we must love one another as ourselves.[MK 12:31] As we learned in our discussion about Envy[cf. Looking Through Stained Glass, “Life in Christ – Part 2: Envy – It’s Not Easy Being Green”, Mar. 7, 2019], when we love others as we love ourselves, we wish for them the kind of blessings that we might wish for ourselves. We do not need to be the one who receives all of the greatest things. We can be pleased when a brother or sister also receives what is good.[1 Cor 12:26]

One great description of Avarice is that it is looking at material objects as an end in themselves, instead of as a means to a greater end. Since, as we mentioned above, Avarice is so closely linked to Envy, the virtue of charity is perhaps one of the best tools to combat Avarice, just as it is for Envy. For example, Avarice would have us believe that amassing a great fortune is the goal of life, whereas charity would help us to realize that a great fortune can be used to make a great difference in the lives of those who are in need. Perhaps Jesus said it best when He said, “For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be.”[MT 6:21]

Avarice is a disordered desire for more material wealth. Next week, we will look at the Capital Sin of Lust, another disordered desire.
CATHOLIC SOCIAL

Rights and Responsibilities

"We are created in God's image. As such, every person has the right to life. They also have a right to those things which preserve their dignity, or quality of life: food, shelter, health care, education, and meaningful employment. Corresponding to these rights are responsibilities. Because we are created in the image of the Triune God, we must respect the rights of others and care for others according to God's commandments and example." USCCB.org

Challenge Question: Am I surprised to learn that Catholic Teaching recognizes universal access to healthcare as a basic human right? Does knowing this challenge or affirm my perspective on this issue?

Merciful Father, You desire the welfare of all your children. Stretch out your protecting arm over men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and do your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
