Paul’s back! After last week’s “violent abuse,” opponents organized a lynch mob that beat Paul nearly to death. But call Paul the “energizing evangelist,” transforming deadly cruelty into life-giving zeal. Paul’s past courage should inspire our commitment; Revelation’s future “new heaven, new earth” should inspire our optimism. But Revelation’s present assurance, “Behold, God’s dwelling is with the human race,” should challenge us to become “missionaries of mercy.” Because Pope Francis declared that the Church’s credibility is completely dependent on our showing unconditional mercy. Mercy, said Francis, makes the Church, the world, and everyone young again, reawakened to life’s noblest virtues. Fittingly, in today’s Gospel Jesus reinforces that theme: “This is how all will know you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.”  Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

Saturday: Acts 16:1-10; Ps 100:1b-3, 5; Jn 15:18-21

To prepare for the Readings of May 25/26

First Reading — The question of whether circumcision is necessary for salvation (Acts 15:1-2, 22-29).
Psalm — O God, let all the nations praise you! (Psalm 67)
Second Reading — John envisions the holy city, the new Jerusalem (Revelation 21:10-14, 22-23) or Revelation 22:12-14, 16-17, 20.
Gospel — Peace I leave with you; my peace I give to you (John 14:23-29) or John 17:20-26.
Life in Christ – Part 12: Dear Prudence, Open Up Your Eyes

Now that we have examined the Theological Virtues of Faith, Hope and Love, we turn our focus to the Cardinal Virtues. The Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC) states: “The moral virtues are acquired by human effort. They are the fruit and seed of morally good acts; they dispose all the powers of the human being for communion with divine love. Four virtues play a pivotal role and accordingly are called ‘cardinal’; all the others are grouped around them. They are: prudence, justice, fortitude, and temperance.” [CCC, 1804-05]

We will begin our discussion of the Cardinal Virtues with the Virtue of Prudence. Prudence, according to the Catechism, is “the virtue that disposes practical reason to discern our true good in every circumstance and to choose the right means of achieving it; …}. Prudence is ‘right reason in action,’ writes St. Thomas Aquinas.” [CCC, 1806] In other words, the Virtue of Prudence helps us not only to know what is right, but to do what is right.

Let us parse the statement quoted from Aquinas above. Prudence begins with right reason. It is not only using reason to determine the possibilities or courses of action, it is judging those possibilities based on “rightness”. One must be able to see all the possibilities and their effects in order to judge rightness. Prudence relies on correct moral judgment of each course of action.

Once reason has been used to examine the possibilities, it is putting the correct course into action. Prudence is “right reason in action.” The Catechism goes on to tell us that Prudence “is not to be confused with timidity or fear, nor with duplicity or dissimulation.” [Ibid.] While inaction may be the proper response in certain circumstances, Prudence more often leads to action – the right action. For example, if one were to witness an armed burglary, the prudent one might not engage the burglar, but instead report the crime to the authorities. “With the help of this virtue we apply moral principles to particular cases without error and overcome doubts about the good to achieve and the evil to avoid.” [Ibid.]

As Pride was the spring from which all Capital Sins arise, and Love is the spring for all Virtue, Prudence is the spring for all of the Cardinal Virtues. “It is called auriga virtutum (the charioteer of the virtues); it guides the other virtues by setting rule and measure.” [Ibid.] We start by putting the Virtue of Prudence into practice and then augment it with the Virtues of Justice, Fortitude, and Temperance.

Next week, we will continue our discussion of the Cardinal Virtues with the Virtue of Justice.

Challenge question: Do I personally know people who are one paycheck or one illness away from financial ruin? How can such a crisis upset the peace within a person or within a family? How does this quote form my conscience on the duties of a just society?

Pacem in Terris: Peace on Earth
(John XXIII, 1963)
"Beginning our discussion of the rights of man, we see that every person has the right to life, to bodily integrity, and to the means which are suitable for the proper development of life: these are primarily food, clothing, shelter, rest, medical care, and finally the necessary social services. Therefore a human being also has the right to security in cases of sickness, inability to work, widowhood, old age, unemployment, or in any other case in which one is deprived of the means of subsistence through no fault of one’s own." Merciful Father, You desire the welfare of all your children. Stretch out Your protecting arm over our men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and so do Your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all.

This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
