TWENTY SEVENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A LITTLE FAITH

Today our readings are about faith, frustration, and how much is enough. Habakkuk is a complainer having an argument with God. Timothy is encouraging a community challenged by cowardice and the apostles want more faith than they have. Things aren't happening fast enough for any of them or for us. All of them and we want God to do something sooner rather than later and we want God to give us a reason to believe that it will all work out. What does God do? God puts it back on them—and us—telling Habakkuk to describe the world he wants; telling the apostles to do more than the expected. Doing more with less is a familiar phrase today and a reminder that a little faith may be enough even for the most difficult times. Copyright © J. S. Paluch Co.

To prepare for the Readings of Oct. 12/13

First Reading — Naaman, cleansed from his leprosy, returns gratefully to Elisha (2 Kings 5:14-17).
Psalm — The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power (Psalm 298).
Second Reading — If we have died with Christ we shall also live with Christ (2 Timothy 2:8-13).
Gospel — Ten lepers are healed by Jesus, but only one, a Samaritan, returns to give him thanks (Luke 17:11-19).
The Incarnation

Last week, we explored how the Son came from the Father, and this week, we examine how He came to earth. In the Creed, we state: “For us men and for our salvation he came down from Heaven; and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.”

As we have seen in previous columns, this reality of our belief is supported by Scripture. First, it is supported by the Gospel of Luke in the Incarnation. “Behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall name him Jesus. He will be great and will be called Son of the Most High […]. The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. Therefore the child to be born will be called holy, the Son of God.” [LK 1:31-32a, 35, emphasis added] This quote from the Incarnation shows that the Son of God became a child, a human child, who would be named Jesus. Gaudium et Spes, a document of Vatican II, says the following about Jesus’ Incarnation: “For by His incarnation the Son of God has united Himself in some fashion with every man. He worked with human hands, He thought with a human mind, acted by human choice and loved with a human heart. Born of the Virgin Mary, He has truly been made one of us, like us in all things except sin”. [Gaudium et Spes, 22]

However, the Son of God did not become a man on a whim; it was for a purpose. We say in the Creed that He became man “for our salvation.” What does this mean? The Catechism begins its discussion on our salvation this way: “The Word became flesh for us in order to save us by reconciling us with God, who ‘loved us and sent his Son to be the expiation for our sins’: ‘the Father has sent his Son as the Saviour of the world’, and ‘he was revealed to take away sins’”. [CCC, 457]

Why would God want to save us? The Catechism says: “The Word became flesh so that thus we might know God’s love: ‘In this the love of God was made manifest among us, that God sent his only Son into the world, so that we might live through him.’” [1 JN 4:9] ‘For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life.’ [JN 3:16]” [CCC, 458]

Not only did the Father send the Son to show us God’s love, but also to be an example of how we should love. At the Last Supper, Jesus said to His Apostles, “Love one another as I have loved you.” [JN 15:12]

Once we have come to know God’s love through the Son, and once we have begun to share that love with one another, God completes our salvation by incorporating us into the divine life of the Trinity through the Son. St. Irenaeus explains it this way: “For this is why the Word became man, and the Son of God became the Son of man: so that man, by entering into communion with the Word and thus receiving divine sonship, might become a son of God.” [Irenaeus, Adversus Haereses, 3, 19, 1] As we have seen in a previous column, we become adopted sons and daughters of God through the Only Begotten Son of God. [cf. Looking Through Stained Glass, “…The Son of God”, Sept. 22, 2019]

Next week, we will begin to explore how Jesus completes His mission of salvation through His Passion, Death and Resurrection.

“Where All God’s Children are Honored”
Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ:

Next weekend, the parishes in our Diocese will participate in a second collection for World Mission Sunday, observed on October 20, 2019. The World Mission collection will support more than 1,100 mission dioceses in Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands and parts of Latin America and Europe.

This year’s theme Baptized and Sent: The Church of Christ on Mission in the World, challenges all believers to take an active role as missionaries of Christ in the world. Pope Francis writes in his letter, “People in love never stand still: they are drawn out of themselves; they are attracted and attract others in turn; they give themselves to others and build relationships that are life-giving. . . Each of us is a mission to the world, for each of us is the fruit of God’s love” (World Mission Day 2019, June 9, 2019).

We financially support missions all over the world, yet we are also called to be missionaries, in our families, our parishes, our communities and in our world. As adopted children of God may we have the courage to answer the call to be witnesses of God’s love to the world.

Thank you for your commitment to the faith and your spiritual and financial generosity. May God bless you and your families with every grace and peace and may our Blessed Mother always intercede for you.

With gratitude for your continued generosity and every prayerful wish, I am
Sincerely yours in Christ,
Most Reverend Gerald M. Barbarito
Bishop of Palm Beach

October is Respect Life Month

This weekend is Respect Life Sunday

“Although we must cherish, protect, and defend human life year-round, the Catholic Church in the United States sets aside each October as Respect Life Month. This year’s theme, “Christ Our Hope: In Every Season of Life,” is particularly suited for our times.” Archbishop Joseph F. Naumann, Chairman of the Committee on Pro-Life Activities, USCCB.

Merciful Father, You desire the welfare of all your children. Stretch out Your protecting arm over our men and women in the service. Shield them from every danger to body, mind and soul. Comfort them in loneliness, sustain them in hardship, give them the courage they need to fulfill their duty and so do Your will in all things. Bestow on our leaders and the leaders of the world the wisdom and prudence which will bring peace and justice to all. This we ask through Jesus Christ, Your Son, Our Lord. Amen. Mary, help of Christians, pray for us.
