

Come as You Are to Mass & Concerts

Announcing Relaxed Protocols and a New Concert Series in the Plainville-Wrentham Collaborative Parishes

Mass is Now Comfortable for Everyone!

FINALLY! Something feeling more like normal is becoming reality - in our Commonwealth, our neighborhoods, and yes - in St. Martha and St. Mary Parishes, too! This weekend we begin providing options for those who do not need masks, as well as those who need or want to maintain precautions.

Do you want to attend Mass without the hassle? Welcome back! Just come as you are, and sit in the open seating section of the church. If you are vaccinated, you can even skip the face covering! Do you need to maintain precautions or just feel more comfortable keeping masks on a little longer? You too can come as you are, and you will find a seating section or two in our churches where face coverings and social distancing are practiced. Everyone has different reasons for where they choose to sit (that is nothing new!), so all are welcome however you choose to attend. Fresh air and regular sanitizing of surfaces are provided for everyone.

For more information, please see the New Relaxed Protocols for St. Martha Parish and St. Mary Parish on our website.

PWC Open Air Concert Series

We are pleased to announce that our collaborative parishes are sponsoring a series of live, open-air concerts! The first concert will take place Sunday, June 13th at 2:00pm at Plainville's Telford Park (by the old town hall) where we have held church picnics before. This concert features Jillian Carelli, the Director of Music Ministries at St. Mary in Wrentham and a graduate of the Boston Conservatory at Berklee, along with her accompanist Chris Carson, Music Director at St. Edward Parish in Medfield. They will play a wide variety of both spiritual and secular music for our enjoyment. As part of our 2021 "Welcome Back Initiative", this is a great opportunity to start gathering as a community again and sharing a relaxed time and some wonderful music! For more details and future updates on this series, see the PWC Open Air Concert Series page on our website.
