Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

The readings for the Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time remind us of the often complex relationship between religion and politics. Jesus and the prophets offer us some important insights in navigating through these waters. The first reading from the prophet Isaiah is a good example of Israel's firm belief that religion and politics are inextricably connected. In the reading, Isaiah made it clear that Cyrus' rise to power was no accident; it was the God of Israel that empowered ("anointed") the Persian Emperor to serve God's greater purpose.

The second reading, taken from Paul's First Letter to the Thessalonians, includes Paul's greeting to the Christian community at Thessalonica and the beginning of his extended thanksgiving for their faith.

Whereas Isaiah teaches us about the interdependence between politics and religion, we hear in today's Gospel reading how Jesus teaches us the proper balance between politics and religion. Today the Pharisees and Herodians attempt to entrap Jesus into publicly condemning Caesar's census tax as an affront to Jewish law. Palestinian Jews had a deep-seated resentment over paying taxes of any kind to a foreign power occupying their Promised Land. And paying a census tax reinforced the Roman Empire's presence in, and control over, Palestine. In his response to the tax question, Jesus puts the census tax in its proper perspective while simultaneously challenging those who attempted to entrap him: "Repay to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God." Jesus offered his critics the perfect balance between religion and politics.

DONATE TO NEW YORK COMMON PANTRY THROUGH AMAZON

As a community we are facing unprecedented circumstances which have disproportionately impacted the poorer neighborhoods of New York City. As the number of people out of work increases, the number of people who depend on our pantry for services will continue to increase. Since March 16th New York Common Pantry has given out over 600,000 meals. We ask you to continue to support this mission to ensure everyone in need gets a meal and their pantry packages by donating through the Amazon Food Drive.

Sunday, Oct. 25th at 3:30pm - OLGC Parish Hall

This film, inspired by true events, will be shown in English (2hours and 5minutes) and follows Pope Benedict XVI, played by Anthony Hopkins, as he attempts to convince Cardinal Jorge Mario Bergoglio (the future Pope Francis), played by Jonathan Pryce, to reconsider his decision to resign as an Archbishop as he confides his own intentions to abdicate the papacy. Behind Vatican walls, the conservative Pope Benedict XVI and the liberal future Pope Francis must find common ground to forge a new path for the Catholic Church.

This Sunday's Second Collection

World Mission Sunday

During the Mission Month of October, Pope Francis reminds us that, as Christians, we are called personally to mission – especially at this time – to bring Christ's love to those most forgotten around the world. Jesus is God the Father's Missionary; He asks us to respond to this call to mission, this invitation to "step out of ourselves to love God and neighbor." This year, in response to this invitation and the challenges created by the pandemic, I invite you to consider a sacrificial gift to the annual World Mission Sunday collection, on October 17th and 18th. Your generous support will enable the Society for the Propagation of the Faith to continue to spread the growing faith communities of our day.

With gratitude and prayerful best wishes, I am,
Devotedly yours in Christ

Timothy Michael Cardinal Dolan
Archbishop of New York
