Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

“No one who sets a hand to the plow and looks to what was left behind is fit for the Kingdom of God.”

Luke 9:62
A Note From Our Pastor

EXCUSE ME....

Have you ever heard people excuse themselves by appealing to what they do not have? “I am too young,” “I am not educated.” “I am not good enough.” “I could never do that.” I do not have the time.”

Now think back—way back—to the conversation God and Moses had at the burning bush. God asked Moses to go to Egypt and tell Pharaoh to let the Hebrew slaves go. Immediately Moses used a number of phrases to complain about what he did not have: “Who am I that I should go..?” “I am not eloquent in speech.” “I am not a prophet.” “No one will believe me...”

After listening to Moses’ complaints (read: excuses), God says to him: “What is that in your hand?” Moses replies that it is the staff of a shepherd. Fine, God decrees, then it will be by a shepherd’s staff that His People are led to freedom. In effect God said, “Moses, I am not interested in what you do not have; I am only interested in what you do have... so stretch forth your hand and free the people... and know that I am with you.” Moses did, and the rest is history.

We all need to be reminded that God expects the same of us, to use what we have instead of reading off a litany of excuses. What better example as we celebrate Independence Day than that of our nations founders, the courageous people, who compared to their European contemporaries didn’t have much, but nonetheless were willing to use what they did have, even their own lives, in the pursuit of liberty. We celebrate freedom today because they stopped making excuses and instead summoned enough courage to let go and trust God for the future.

Have a happy, safe, and enjoyable Independence Day. Cherish the gift of freedom, and with God’s help, use what you do have to make this nation, and our world, a better place.

The Candidate’s Corner

Michael Van Dyke, Diaconate Intern

In our first reading this weekend we hear of Elisha severing ties to his past in a dramatic fashion to follow Elijah. There was no turning back for Elisha after slaughtering his oxen and burning his plowing equipment. In Luke’s Gospel, several would-be followers of Jesus can’t quite drop everything to become his disciples. It was in the spirit of leaving everything behind that I and the three other men to be ordained in October chose to take a retreat at the St. Kateri Tekakwitha Retreat Center in the upper peninsula over the Memorial Day weekend.

The St. Kateri Retreat Center is situated on 1,120 acres just outside of Paradise (insert puns here), north of Tahquamenon Falls State Park. It is run by members of Companions of Christ the Lamb community. At the center you have the option of staying in a hermitage or a poustinia. Poustinia is a Russian word which means desert. Just the title of Catherine Doherty’s book Poustinia: Encountering God in Silence, Solitude, and Prayer gives you a sense of why we chose this center for our retreat. We wanted to leave everything behind for five days, no phones, no computers, no radios or TVs as we prepare to follow Christ as deacons.

The facilities are quite spartan; wood-burning stove for heat, oil lamps for light. I stayed in the Bishop Baraga poustinia which overlooks the Betsy River. It was secluded even within the center, yet only a 5-minute walk to the Chapel and kitchen.

Our days consisted of Morning Prayer and Holy Hour, breakfast, a mid-morning Rosary, Mass at noon, lunch, Evening Prayer and Holy Hour, and dinner. Between all this was quiet and solitude, lots and lots of solitude. Funny how sometimes “nothing” is everything you need when you set out to follow God.

If you are looking to leave everything behind, even temporarily, to follow Christ, consider a retreat at St. Kateri – except in June when mosquitos take an annual retreat there themselves!

In the peace of Christ,

Mike

Questions about Funerals

Why does the Church not sacramentally anoint bodies after death?

One purpose of the Sacrament of the Sick and its anointing of the living person is to instill hope and healing before death. After death, when healing can no longer take place, the Church has other prayers but does not anoint the dead body. The Church provides a number of rites or liturgies as parishes offer the ministry of consolation to families experiencing sickness and death. First, for the sick, the Church has the Sacrament of Anointing of the Sick. As soon as a person is seriously sick or injured, the parish should be called to request the anointing. This anointing can be received many times in one’s life and should not be limited to the last hour of life. After death, the Church does not anoint the body but offers other special prayers commending the soul to the Merciful Lord.

The Anointing of the Sick can be received many times by a Catholic. Pastors often remind their parishioners that the sick are to be anointed at the beginning of a serious illness as well as through the various stages of the illness as it progresses. The sacrament is not reserved to be celebrated only within the last hours of one’s life. The Sacrament of the Sick is for the living and the hope of being reunited at the Altar of the Lord. Once a person dies, the priest may offer different prayers for the dead but does not anoint the body.

At the time of death, whom do we call to set things in motion?

If a person dies unexpectedly at home, the local public safety department must be called first. If a person is under hospice care, the hospice nurse should be called first and they will then help you with the subsequent procedures. Funeral directors specialize in serving the needs of families at the time of death and will also assist in the notification of the pertinent people or agencies. The local parish may be called directly by the family or the funeral director. After the parish is notified and has confirmed the day and time of the funeral, the family will most likely be asked to come to the parish in order to collect further information regarding the deceased and begin to plan the funeral rites. It also gives the parish the opportunity to offer their sympathy through their bereavement ministry.

Theology of the Body

Would you like to get some insight as to why the Catholic Church teaches what it does regarding marriage between a man and a woman, abortion, contraception, divorce, pornography, and other “hot-topics” of our day? Come join the Faith Formation Director to learn more about the wonderful teaching of St. John Paul II on the Theology of the Body. Study started on June 25 and continues to the end of August. Cost for material is $15. Contact info josylin@stmoffice.com or 248-647-4680 to register.

Will meet on the following days: June 25, July 2, 9, 16, 23, August 13, 20 and 27. Don’t worry if you will miss a day or two due to vacation.

Ministers Needed

Children’s Liturgy of the Word (CLW) is offered here because of wonderful volunteers, one in particular has been doing it for the past three years. During CLW, young children leave the sanctuary during the Liturgy of the Word to hear the scripture readings proclaimed and explained at an age-appropriate level.

These sessions are not faith formation classes, arts-and-crafts activities, or babysitting during Mass. Rather, the children hear the same Mass readings as adults – but in simpler terms that are easier to grasp.

In order to continue providing this wonderful ministry we need volunteers for the 2019-2020 school year. You will be given resources to help in this ministry and not much time is required from you to prepare. Please prayerfully consider if this is where God is calling you to be a more active member of your parish community. Contact the faith formation office if you are even slightly interested: angela@stmoffice.com or 248-647-4680.

Unleash the Gospel

_Sent on Mission: Next Phase of Unleash the Gospel_

_by John Hannigan_

For some years at Pentecost, Archbishop Vigneron has introduced major steps in the revitalization of the Church in Detroit. At Pentecost Vigils, he announced a Year of Prayer for a New Pentecost, called Synod 16, and released his Pastoral Letter _Unleash the Gospel_. This year, the Archbishop named the next phase of _Unleash the Gospel_, _Sent on Mission_, which he had introduced in a Letter to the Faithful in April (see: www.stthomasmoretroy.org/pastoral-notes-on-utg).

_Sent on Mission_ is about renewing or re-founding “our parishes so that everything we do ... leads us to be more effective witnesses to the Gospel.” Our parish, too, is meant to be a place “where individuals and families encounter Jesus anew, grow as His disciples, and are equipped to be witnesses of the Risen Christ.” A vanguard of nine parishes is piloting a planning process for achieving “nothing short of a complete overhaul of our Church in Detroit.” Some time next year, STM will engage this _Missionary Strategic Plan_ to provide direction for a missionary transformation that will achieve the Archdiocese’s vision of our parish being “a community of joyful missionary disciples and of saints united in Jesus” and “a place that manifests the presence of God.” (www.aod.org/our-archdiocese/mission-and-vision/)

While we look forward to how this vision for parishes will unfold, we cannot wait on the sidelines. _Unleash the Gospel_ says there are “No Bystanders” (Guidepost 5). Pope Francis wrote that “the new evangelization calls for personal involvement on the part of each of the baptized. Every Christian is challenged, here and now, to be actively engaged in evangelization” (_The Joy of the Gospel_, ¶120). Even when we know how, it is not easy for us to help those we love most dearly to encounter Jesus and know the love of the Father. In fact, we can’t be missionaries on our own: we need the help of the Holy Spirit. But with the Spirit, we can become joyful missionary disciples.

Let’s set aside time each day, “here and now,” to pray for the gifts of Holy Spirit, to discern how God wills you to be _Sent on Mission_. Pray to know how you might be more “actively engaged in evangelization” in our parish, and how you are called “to give glory to God and to help every soul within our reach attain eternal life through Jesus Christ.”

Contact me (unleashSTM@gmail.com) about the Evangelization Committee or Deacon Michael for other ways to serve (dcmichael@stmoffice.com).

Stewardship

Time, Talent and Treasure

_Sent on Mission Reflection_

Today’s readings take us back to the basics, inviting us to reflect honestly on our deepest priorities in life.

In today’s Gospel, from Luke, Christ refers to the struggle to put Him above all else as He encounters two “would-be” disciples on His way to Jerusalem. “‘Follow me,’” Jesus says to the first man. “But he replied, ‘Lord let me go first and bury my father.’ The other said, ‘I will follow you, Lord, but first let me say farewell to my family at home.’” These two want to follow Christ, but only on their own terms, and only after taking care of some other, more pressing matters (at least in their own minds).

To this, Christ says thanks, but no thanks! Following Him requires an unqualified “yes” not a “yes, but...” We are called to put Christ and His kingdom ahead of our own plans if we truly wish to be His disciples and to find victory in the battle of selfishness.

Living stewardship as a way of life can go a long way in arming us for victory. A stewardship way of life provides us with a custom-made “training plan” — the commitment to a specific offering of our time, talent and treasure to the Kingdom of God. It is a plan discerned through prayer, and by looking at the realities of our unique circumstances, strengths and limitations. The daily discipline of committing to the plan strengthens us and helps us gradually move away from the “yes, but” attitude and towards an unqualified “yes!” to Christ and His will.

Do not be afraid to give the best of yourself and your gifts to Christ. He deserves nothing less. And this way of life, while challenging, will be characterized by a joy and peace that only comes from living for Him.
