revealed their joys and struggles in life, and offered advice. Following the conversation, the postulants and novices created a poster on the life of each Sister and shared it with the convent community. This project visibly manifested the spirit of Christian Charity between young and old, East and West.

Two young women interested in knowing more about religious life visited Friday evening. The program included: presentations on a day in the life of a postulant, novice, and temporary professed Sister, a sharing of interesting facts about each member of the formation group in the form of a game, and a panel discussion about different vocational topics, including moments of confusion in following God’s call, challenges in adjusting to community life, and visioning for the future of religious life in the Church today.

All who experienced this Spirit-filled visit were blessed with the joy and love of being truly Sisters!
Dear Friends,

The Office of Mission Advancement (OMA) wishes you a very happy spring! In this issue of Weavings, you will learn about the Sisters of Christian Charity’s sponsored works, and some new ministries. I am also excited to share our 2017 list of “Faithful Friends” in this issue. Thank you to all our partners who enable the work of the SCC’s.

As the Sisters continue to grow and expand their ministries to meet the ever-changing needs of the community, the OMA would like to keep you better informed. Right now, we rely on snail mail to communicate with our friends; however, we plan to expand our electronic communications this year. In an effort to do so, we need to update our email database. If necessary go onto our website at www.scceast.org/update-contact-information or email me at dev.director@scceast.org. Rest assured, we do not plan to bombard you with email, but feel it is a useful tool to share pictures as we move into our new building, update you on events/happenings at the new convent and share exciting news from our ministries throughout the world. We hope to coordinate the effort through a reputable email marketing company so that you can opt in or out at any time. Don’t forget, you can also use our website to find the latest community news, make a donation, send a prayer request or review the calendar of events.

I look forward to fostering stronger relationships with our friends this year and hope to hear from you with an update. Thank you for your continued generosity.

Gratefully,

Casey Dolan
Associate Director of Mission Advancement

SCC Ministries Include Diverse Spiritual Works

St. Cecelia Parish, Iselin, NJ

Just a phone call from the pastor of St. Cecelia’s Parish, Iselin, NJ in the Diocese of Metuchen was all that was needed for Sisters Mary Linda Szalejko and Mary Martha Garzon to eagerly respond: “Send us!”

Sr. Mary Linda serves as the Parish Catechetical Leader coordinating weekly classes for students through grades 1 to 8, as well as the Rite of Christian Initiation for Children (RCIC) for eight young people. Individual sessions are also held for students with special needs.

Sr. Mary Martha ministers in varied ways: working at the parish office in the mornings, helping at the gift shop, distributing food to those in need from the parish food pantry, and visiting homes of those who are shut-in in order for them to receive the Eucharist, as well as share some quality time together.

Sister also participates in the Lazarus Ministry, which reaches out with compassion to those who have lost a loved one.

The Sisters are delighted to be joyful witnesses of God’s love, peace and healing to the parishioners of St. Cecelia’s!

St. Francis Cathedral School, Metuchen, NJ

St. Francis Cathedral School, Metuchen, NJ is “alive with the sound of music” at the arrival of Sr. Mathilde DeLucy (above) as the new music teacher for students in kindergarten through eighth grade. Sister also directs the school choir, the eighth grade bell choir and provides after-school private lessons in voice, piano, violin and flute. Sister Mathilde comes to St. Francis fully prepared to meet these musical challenges with a BS degree in Music Education from Seton Hall University, South Orange, NJ.

Recently designated a “Blue Ribbon” school for its accomplishments in Reading and Math, the school is thriving with three kindergarten classes and two classes of each grade. When asked about teaching music at St. Francis, Sister’s immediate response was an enthusiastic, “I love it!”

St. Mary’s Villa, Lansdale, PA

Nestled quietly near the Wissahickon creek in Lansdale, PA is St. Mary Villa for Independent and Retirement Living. Sr. Susan Keatley began a pastoral care position at this Catholic Faith-based living facility and serves to offer emotional and moral support to the residents and their families in an effort to heal mind, body and soul.

Sister resides with the Sisters of the Holy Family of Nazareth in Norristown, PA.

Note: We apologize for a misspelling in the Fall 2017 issue. The Jeweled Family Tree Picture Frame on the front page was donated by Anita Kalyan and Cathy Magliocchetti.
In Flemington, NJ, Sister Marie Luu (left) joined the St. Magdalen de Pazzi Convent community to teach Religion in grades 5 through 8 at Immaculate Conception School in Annandale, NJ.

Sr. Frances Marie Phan’s new ministry as a Sacristan at St. Teresa of Avila Church, Summit, NJ, is both a joy and a challenge! There are 3700 families in the Parish called by God to live out Christ’s love in service to all people.

Sister (right) serves as a Sacristan. She is charged with the care and security of the sacristy, and most importantly, the Eucharist. Sister is also responsible for any arrangements for Liturgical services.

Fashioning the Beloved Community

Women from the 1st Baptist Church of Madison praise the Lord with liturgical dance.

“Brothers and sisters, neighbors and strangers, serve one another in harmony. You are beloved children together in a Beloved Community.” These words aptly express the mission of collaboration among the members of the churches of Madison and Morristown, NJ, including the Sisters of Charity of St. Elizabeth and the Sisters of Christian Charity.

Since October 2016, this alliance has organized meetings, presentations, and services, for the purpose of building a “Beloved Community” in the area. Martin Luther King, Jr. popularized the notion of such a community.

In November 2017, a panel discussion focused on the work of the South Orange/Maplewood, NJ, Community Coalition on Race. The Coalition celebrated 21 years of work on intentional integration and true inclusion in these two towns. Multicultural activities, coffee house discussions, school events, and integration through the arts are ways the towns are meeting their goals.

In celebration of MLK Day, the Sisters of Charity of Convent Station, NJ, hosted a service celebrating his life and words. Reflections on MLK’s sermons, scripture, and song and dance highlighted the evening’s tribute. The Sisters of Christian Charity were in attendance.

St. James Parish, Basking Ridge, NJ

Members of the Administrative Team of St. James:

“Serve all willingly for God’s sake”. We recalled these words of Blessed Pauline when a new ministry came unexpectedly in February, 2017. Msgr. Sylvester Cronin, pastor of St. James Parish, Basking Ridge, NJ, in the Diocese of Metuchen, requested a Sister as principal for the Pre-K-8 school until the end of the school year. One of the provincial councilors, Sister Joann Marie Aumand, offered to complete the year. Sister Maria Burns was subsequently hired in April as a pre-kindergarten aide.

In June, 2017, Sister Joann Marie was asked to remain at St. James School as Director and collaborate with its newly hired principal. As Director, Sister Joann Marie’s main function is to foster the school's Catholic identity through communication and presence.

Sr. Esther Falzone joined St. James Parish as a pastoral associate in September, working closely with the parish’s varied ministries. Sister Esther is a member of the administrative team and the liaison between school and parish.

The Sisters agree that this “unexpected” ministry turned out to be just what they expected!
Blessed Pauline desired the Sisters of Christian Charity to directly engage in charitable works that serve the needs of the Church and the common good. For the sake of promoting and sustaining the Church’s mission in the world, our Congregation engages in formal relationships with institutional ministries as a “sponsor.” In this section of Weavings, we proudly highlight our sponsored works.

Villa Pauline Retreat and Spiritual Center

Amid the beauty of over 100 acres of spacious lawns, magnificent trees and woodlands, lies Villa Pauline Retreat and Spiritual Center! Time spent in prayer and solitude was important to Blessed Pauline before she founded the Congregation. After its establishment, she desired her Sisters and the laypersons who served with them to “come apart and rest awhile” each year.

Initially, Villa Pauline was the Cromwell Mansion, a large 44-room Georgian house dating back to 1892, on the estate of Seymour Cromwell and his family. After his untimely death in 1925, his wife sold the mansion and property in 1926 to the Sisters of Christian Charity for $50,000! Renamed Mallinckrodt Convent, the home became the first Motherhouse of the Sisters of Christian Charity of the Eastern Province.

In 1932, the Sisters moved into a larger house on the property to meet the needs of its ever-growing community. After renovations in 1937, four Sisters began ministry at the rechristened Villa Pauline and the first retreat took place in October. In 2004, the SCCs began Quellen Spiritual Center, located in the Motherhouse. This became an additional sacred space for those seeking to deepen their relationship with God.

In February, 2018 the Spiritual Center and Retreat House merged to become Villa Pauline Retreat and Spiritual Center. This union will allow for an array of on and off site retreats, programs, and hosting opportunities for various groups. May all who minister and are refreshed here live and make visible God’s love in the world.

Assumption College for Sisters

Assumption College for Sisters is the only “Sister Formation” college of its kind still in operation in the United States! Blessed Pauline, convinced of the value of an education, required her Sisters to become as professionally qualified as the lay teachers of the time.

When the North American Eastern Province was established in 1927, the Sisters added an academic component to the religious formation of those entering. Functioning as an extension of Seton Hall University, it became Assumption Junior College and was state-approved in 1953. Authorized to confer degrees in 1961 and renamed Assumption College for Sisters, it awards two degrees: Associate in Arts and Associate in Religious Arts and a Certificate in Religious Studies. It is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and has a fully functioning Board of Trustees. ACS relies on contributions and its annual fund-raising event, the Caring Basket Gala.

Teach a Sister...Touch the World has become a “vision statement” since ACS has welcomed Sisters from Vietnam, Africa and Central America as full-time resident students. The College moved its campus from the Motherhouse to Morris Catholic High School, Denville, NJ, in 2015 at the site of the former SCC convent. This collaboration has proved successful for both schools with classrooms for ACS and courses for qualified MC students. (ACS students with their peace banner)

Geisinger Holy Spirit Health System

Holy Spirit Hospital began as a simple act of faith. The business and church leaders, physicians and SCCs believed they could build a Catholic hospital to serve the greater Harrisburg area. It was to be owned and operated by the Sisters, who provided administrators, nurses and technicians. Holy Spirit Hospital opened its doors on March 3, 1963 to care for its first eight patients.

Sister Ursula Frei ably served as the first President and CEO - Chief Executive Officer (1963-1989) followed by Sister Romaine Niemeyer (1990-2014). For 51 years, Holy Spirit Health System grew from a stand-alone hospital to a full-service hospital staffed by thousands and caring for hundreds of thousands.

In a rapidly changing and challenging healthcare environment, Holy Spirit Health System saw the need to affiliate with Geisinger Health System, Danville, PA, in 2014. Sister Mary Joseph Albright serves as Mission Integration Officer, to insure fidelity to the hospital’s Catholic identity. Under the leadership of Kyle Snyder, Chief Administrative Officer of Holy Spirit, this relationship has provided Holy Spirit with a stronger market presence and influence and innovative services such as a Level II Trauma Center accredited September 1, 2017.

In order to better reflect this affiliation, Holy Spirit was branded as Geisinger Holy Spirit on March 3, 2017. The Holy Spirit name and Dove symbol, well-known in the area, has remained, honoring Holy Spirit’s history and Catholic identity. The SCCs have retained a sponsorship role, that is, accountability to the Bishop of Harrisburg for adherence to the Ethical and Religious Directives, and advancement of the Gospel-based mission of healing. Six Sisters currently minister there.

UPMC Susquehanna: Divine Providence and Muncy Valley Hospitals

Sister Geralyn Haggerty welcomes patients to the hospital. Sister has been part of the Health System for 35 years!

“From small beginnings come great things.” In 1943, Sister Theressilla Hills, provincial of the Sisters of Christian Charity and native of Williamsport, PA, voiced the need for a Catholic hospital in Williamsport to “provide a place where the sick could be treated with the compassion of Christ, coupled with the best principles of medical practice.” The region already had two hospitals - Williamsport (1891) and Muncy Valley (1922) - and was not eager for another. Initial plans were made for a convalescent home. With the help of Bishop William Hafey, Diocese of Scranton, and Msgr. Leo Post, Pastor of St. Boniface Parish, the dream materialized as Divine Providence Hospital.

Groundbreaking took place in 1948, and the 185-bed facility was dedicated in 1951 and opened its doors under the direction of Sister Emilene Wehner, who served as a compassionate and competent administrator for 32 years.

The 1990s ushered in major changes in healthcare. Administrators from the three hospitals began discussions that led to the creation of Susquehanna Health. The architects of this alliance were Sister Jean Mohl, SCC, president of Divine Providence and Donald Creamer, president of Williamsport Hospitals. Laurel Health System which includes Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hospital, The Green Home, and other services, became part of Susquehanna Health in 2012.

As with other healthcare systems, Steve Johnson, President of Susquehanna Health, began looking for a union supportive of its vision. The University of Pittsburgh Medical Center (UPMC) merged with Susquehanna Health in October 2017. Since the merger, two other hospitals have joined the ranks of UPMC Susquehanna: Lock Haven and Sunbury Community. Sister Teresa Ann Jacobs serves as the Director of Sponsorship. Seven others serve in various health-related positions in the Williamsport area.

Farewell Liturgy Celebrated at Holy Family Convent

On Saturday, February 3rd, Bishop Ronald Gainer presided at a Liturgy of Thanksgiving at Holy Family Convent in Danville, PA. The Sisters of Christian Charity purchased the Beaver Mansion for the care of their elderly and infirm members 119 years ago.

As the Sisters are leaving the area this spring, the Bishop expressed gratitude for their consistent living out of a Eucharistic Lifestyle of gratitude and service.

The Bishop also expressed the gratitude of the Diocese of Harrisburg, “for all who lived their lives in witness to Christ,” and promised the Sisters he would pray that “God continue to bless the growth of the Sisters of Christian Charity.”
It is with deep gratitude that we acknowledge and thank you, our Faithful Friends, for your generous contributions. Your continued generosity enables the Sisters of Christian Charity to bring Christ’s love, healing, peace, and joy to everyone in cheerful, wholehearted service. May God continue to bless you! Please note that this listing only includes donations received for the 2017 Annual Campaign. We apologize in advance for any inadvertent omissions and misspellings.
