

FREE EXTENDED LEARNING DAY

Dear Parent,

As your child's teacher, it is my goal to help every student succeed. It has been great seeing all the progress your child has made despite the unique challenges of this school year.

I'm excited to let you know about a wonderful program being offered by the Catholic Schools of the Archdiocese of New York—a FREE Extended Learning Day program for New York City students.

I support this program for quite a few reasons:

- 1 Personalized attention and instruction: Because of the program's small-group instruction, all students get the personal attention and support they need from experienced teachers.
- 2 A holistic learning approach: This program is more than just academics—it incorporates important social-emotional learning and hands-on STEM enrichment activities, as well as targeted academic instruction in math and literacy. This creates a well-rounded experience for each child.
- 3 It's FREE! Your child can take advantage of everything Extended Learning Day has to offer—at no cost to you!

Additionally, the program offers flexibility to accommodate your schedule thanks to after-school hours, either on a weekday or Saturday.

Your student can also take advantage of individual targeted homework help! Offered on a rotating basis once a week, this is the perfect opportunity for your child to ask questions and receive teacher assistance on homework to ensure they're fully understanding the material.

I think this program could be beneficial to your child's success in class. I hope you consider enrolling them.
