

Mass for the Rite of Consecrated Virgin: There will be a Mass of the Rite of Consecration to a Life of Virginity of Women Living in the World for Jacinta Evinger on Saturday, February 22, at 10am at the Church of Saint Anne in Bismarck. All are invited to attend!

What is a Consecrated Virgin?

Article from St. Anne's Parish Bulletin, Bismarck

A consecrated virgin is a never-married woman who dedicates her perpetual virginity to God and is set aside as a sacred person who belongs to Christ in the Catholic Church. Upon consecration, a woman is betrothed mystically to Christ and is dedicated to the service of the Church, while remaining in a public state of life.

Consecrated virgins live individually and receive direction from the diocesan bishop. Their consecration and life of perpetual virginity is permanent. One of the primary goals of consecrated virgins is to point towards a bigger reality: Christ is the ultimate fulfillment. As such, consecrated virgins live out their daily lives as witnesses of this radical love of Christ – not as single persons, but as spouses of Christ.

Their call to a secular state of life means that consecrated virgins have jobs and lives much like that of the average person; they provide for their own needs. Unlike most religious orders, consecrated virgins do not have habits or use the title "Sister." They remain in their own diocese to serve the local Church community under the authority of the bishop. A consecrated virgin has a particular focus on prayer, which is usually lived out through Mass, Liturgy of the Hours, spiritual reading and personal prayer.

St. Agnes, St. Lucy, St. Agatha, and St. Cecilia are perhaps the most commonly known saints who lived out the vocation of a consecrated virgin. Currently in the universal Catholic Church, there are around 3,000 consecrated virgins, and roughly 235 live in the United States, according to the Association of Consecrated Virgins.
