What is the Diabetes Prevention Program?

Also known as the DPP, the Diabetes Prevention Program helps participants lose weight, adopt healthy habits and significantly decrease their risk of developing type 2 diabetes. The program meets weekly for 16 weeks and then monthly for the balance of a year. The program teaches participants to make lasting changes by eating healthier, increasing physical activity, and managing the challenges that come with lifestyle change.

How effective is the DPP in reducing the risk of type 2 diabetes?

The Diabetes Prevention Program (DPP) has been proven by the National Institutes of Health (NIH) and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) to decrease the risk of developing type 2 diabetes by 58% for those who lose 5 – 7% of their body weight via changes in diet and exercise.

What's included in the program?

There are many versions of the lifestyle change program, but most include the following components:

- 16 weekly lessons, followed by monthly sessions for the rest of the year
- Lifestyle health coach to help set goals and keep participants on track
- Small group for support and encouragement
- Helpful tools, like wireless scales and fitness trackers.
