Seventh Sunday of Easter

Make Us Peacemakers

Father, you sent your Son into the world to bring us into deeper relationship with you. You know our hearts, and you know our desire to be known and loved. Help us to bring reconciliation, peace, and compassion into a world that lacks in all three. Give us the strength to say: thank you, I'm sorry, and I forgive you. Grant that we might be peacemakers in our families, our communities, our nation, and the world.

Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

The Family: A School for Holiness

Today's readings: Acts 1:15-27, 20a, 20c-26; Psalm 103:1-2, 11-12, 19-20; John 4:11-16; John 17:11b-19. In today's epistle, we hear once again a proclamation: the Father sent the Son as Savior of the world. We hear what it means to remain in God and for God to remain in us. We must believe in Jesus and through him in God's love for us. Then we must love one another.

Pope Francis has often spoken about families as a school for holiness because they offer endless opportunities to forgive, love, and serve. In fact, it is often with our families that it is hardest to do those things. Most of us probably know a family, if it is not our own family, that is divided by conflict. It seems impossible that reconciliation can occur. Families are complicated and messy. Mental and physical illness, financial trouble, addictions, anxiety about the future, and day-to-day frictions are part of family life.

Into this mess, the mess of what it means to be human, God came. God did not abandon us in our troubles, but experience them with us. He offered us a different possibility; that we remain in love, offering mercy, forgiveness, and compassion because we have received it. Sharing the peace that he has given us, God remains in us and we in God. The Holy Family can inspire us. By becoming part of a human family, God makes all families holy. Is there a person in your family with whom you need to reconcile? What is the first step in repairing that relationship?

Séptimo Domingo De Pascua

Haznos conciliadores

Padre, tu enviaste a tu hijo al mundo para profundizar nuestra relación contigo. Conoces nuestro corazón y sabes de nuestro deseo de ser conocidos y amados. Ayúdanos a llevar reconciliación, paz y compasión a este mundo que carece de todo ello.

Danos la fuerza para decir: gracias, lo siento, te perdono.

Concédenos ser conciliadores de nuestra familia, comunidad, nación y del mundo.

Te lo pedimos por Cristo nuestro Señor. Amén.

La familia, escuela de santidad

Lecturas del día: Hechos 1:15-27, 20a, 20c-26; Salmo 103:1-2, 11-12, 19-20; 1 Juan 4:11-16; Juan 17:11b-19. En la epístola escuchamos que el Padre envió al Hijo para salvar al mundo. Oímos lo que significa permanecer en Dios y que Dios permanezca en nosotros. En Jesús debemos creer y, a través de él, en el amor de Dios.

El papa Francisco ha hablado reiteradamente de la familia como escuela de la santidad, pues ofrece un sinfín de oportunidades para perdonar, amar y servir. Quizá conozcamos a una familia, cuando no la propia, dividida por el conflicto y sin reconciliación a la vista. La familia es algo complicado cuando hay enfermedades mentales y físicas, insolvencia económica, adicciones, temor al futuro o fricciones día con día.

A este embrollo humano, vino Dios para vivir con nosotros. Nos ofreció permanecer en el amor, ofrecer misericordia, perdón y compasión porque todo ello hemos recibido. Dándonos su paz, Dios permanece en nosotros y nosotros en él. La Sagrada Familia es nuestra inspiración. Al volverse parte de una familia humana. Dios hace santas a todas las familias. ¿Debe reconciliarse con alguien de su familia? ¿Cuál es el primer paso para reparar esa relación.

“I do not ask that you take them out of the world but that you keep them from the evil one. They do not belong to the world any more that I belong to the world. Consecrate them in the truth.

Your word is truth.” — Jn 17 : 15 - 17

Baptism

We welcome in our faith community Aron Arguello who was baptized in our Church. Our congratulations go out to him and his family.

Congratulations

Our best wishes and congratulations go out to Ricardo Delgado, Jr. and Patricia Sanchez who were joined in Holy Matrimony in our Church.

First Holy Communion

We offer our congratulations to our parish young people who made their first Holy Communion. Our thanks go out also to all the teachers who prepared our young people for this special day in their life. We pray that these young people with the help of their parents will grow every day in a deeper love for our Eucharistic Lord.

Congratulations go to:

Heladio Arguello, Sofia Alexandra Garcia, Julianna Zoe Garcia & Gabriel Jackson
