From the very beginning, liturgy and music have been quite closely related. Mere words do not suffice when man praises God. Discourse with God goes beyond the boundaries of human speech. Hence by its very nature the liturgy has everywhere called upon the help of music, of singing, and of the voices of creation in the sounds of instruments. The praise of God, after all, does not involve only man. To worship God means to join in that of which all creatures speak.

VIII International Church Music Congress in Rome

The complementarity between the liturgies of the Catholic Church and her music is undeniable – the two work together to lift hearts and minds to divine realities. In the Archdiocese of New Orleans, we have a rich tradition of liturgical music. Men and women have worked with their parishes and priests, volunteering their time and talents, in order to allow the People of God to worship Him in a more profound way. These efforts have promoted a flourishing of faith throughout the archdiocese and demonstrate the power that beauty can bring into our experience of the Mystery of God.

With the full support of Archbishop Gregory M. Aymond, it is my privilege to introduce this Archdiocesan Commission on Sacred Music with the primary goal of assisting musicians in their efforts to lead our local parishes in more fully participating in this mystery of the liturgy.

This goal will be accomplished by providing literature, workshops, and theological/spiritual presentations to help us grow in our understanding of liturgical music – its purpose, production, and performance – and to employ this expertise to enhance liturgies in our parishes, no matter how large or small. Through this newsletter and scheduled events, we hope that musicians from around the diocese will be able to connect and collaborate with one another in order to share with one another practical ideas, skills, and spiritual support, which will, in turn, enrich the liturgical experiences in our local parish communities.

I look forward to personally working with all involved in this endeavor in the future. We need your ideas and feedback if this Commission is to be successful. I ask that any information in the newsletters or invitations to workshops be shared with all involved in parish liturgical music – from the music director to the volunteer cantor; from the organist to the guitarist. We hope that all will be able to grow from experiences and information provided.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:
FR. JAMES J. CHEPPONIS
KEYNOTE ADDRESS: 'PUTTING THE PASTORAL IN PASTORAL MUSICIAN'

FR. JAMES J. CHEPPONIS IS A PRIEST OF THE PITTSBURGH DIOCESE, ordained in 1985. He received his B. A. in music from St. Fidelis College/Slippery Rock University in Pennsylvania, with a major in organ and a minor in voice before going on to receive an M.Div. and M.A. in systematic theology from Mount St. Mary's Seminary, in Emmitsburg, MD.

Since 1996, Fr. Chepponis has served the Diocese of Pittsburgh as Director of the Office for Music Ministry, and his work includes providing music for all Diocesan liturgies, directing the Diocesan Choir and Schola Cantorum, and serving as music resource person for parishes throughout the Pittsburgh Diocese.

Fr. Chepponis has led workshops on pastoral music throughout the country. His published articles on liturgy and music have appeared in Pastoral Music, The Hymn, and GIA Quarterly. A well-known composer, his over 100 published compositions are available from MorningStar, GIA Publications, and World Library Publications. In addition, Fr. Chepponis served with four others as an editor for GIA Publication’s flagship hymnal, Worship, Fourth Edition.
NOVEMBER 2:
COMMEMORATION OF ALL SOULS AND WEDDINGS

In 2019, the Commemoration of All Souls falls on a Saturday, a popular day of the week for weddings. On this day, the marriage ritual may be celebrated within the context of Mass. However, the proper prayers and readings for All Souls’ Day must be used.

The USCCB’s Divine Worship Secretariat has recently clarified that the possibility of using one of the readings from the texts provided for the celebration of marriage in lieu of the proper readings for the day does not apply to All Souls’ Day and the other days listed in nos. 1-4 of the Table of the Liturgical Days.

Alternatively, the Order of Celebrating Matrimony Without Mass may be used on this day, in which case the prayers and readings from the Order of Celebrating Matrimony can be used in full.

DECEMBER 9:
SOLEMNITY OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

In 2019, Sunday, December 8 is the Second Sunday of Advent. The Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary is transferred to the following day, Monday, December 9. Parishes will want to announce that the obligation to attend Mass on this day, however, does not also transfer. The optional memorial of Saint Juan Diego Cuauhtlatoatzin on December 9 is omitted in 2019.

VATICAN ORGANIST VISITS NOTRE DAME SEMINARY

On Wednesday, September 4, Josep Solé Coll, First Organist of the Vatican Basilica paid a visit to Notre Dame Seminary. He presented a lecture entitled “Liturgical Music at the Vatican: Past, Present, and Future.” The lecture was followed by a recital presented on the Möller organ in the Seminary’s Chapel of the Immaculate Conception of music “In Honor of the Most Blessed Virgin Mary.”

At the conclusion of the lecture portion of the evening Mr. Coll spoke eloquently imploring Catholic musicians to work diligently in the promotion of truly Sacred Music, particularly in the forms of Gregorian Chant, and Renaissance Polyphony called for by the Second Vatican Council. He noted that those charged with the responsibility for music in churches must always strive to offer that which is clearly different in text, form, and structure from popular music, that which should never be introduced to the Sacred Liturgy.

Both the lecture, and recital, as well as the handout, and program, are archived on the Sacred Music page of the Seminary’s website. They may be accessed by visiting <nds.edu/sacredmusic/>.
RIP Leo Cornelius Nestor (1948 – 2019)

Leo Cornelius Nestor, conductor, composer, and teacher, died Sunday, Sept. 22.

Leo Nestor was Professor Emeritus of Choral and Sacred Music in the Rome School of Music, Drama, and Art, having retired from the University in 2016. Before his retirement, Nestor had served as the Justine Bayard Ward Professor of Music, director of Choral Studies, director of the Institute of Sacred Music, a member of the conducting faculty, and co-operating member of the composition faculty.

Nestor earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Music-Composition from California State University, East Bay, a Master of Music degree in Choral Music from the University of Southern California, and a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in Choral Music, also from USC.

Prior to coming to Catholic University, Nestor served as the Music Director at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception from 1984-2001. He composed music for four papal visits to the U.S., and he was on the drafting committee for the U.S. Bishops’ 2007 document Sing to the Lord: Music in Divine Worship. Nestor was also a founding member of the Conference of Roman Catholic Cathedral Musicians.

In recognition of his lifetime of musical service to the Catholic church, he was named a papal knight by Pope Francis. The honor was bestowed upon him in 2016 when he was inducted as a Knight of the Pontifical Equestrian Order of St. Gregory the Great.

St. Theresa of Avila Roman Catholic Church, 1404 Erato Street, New Orleans (near Tchoupitoulas exit), is seeking a musician to play and cantor the Sunday 12 noon Spanish Mass. The church houses one of the oldest pipe organs in Louisiana, the 1870 instrument of Jardine and Son, of New York.

Church website: sttheresanola.org/

Information about the Jardine organ may be found at: neworleanschurches.com/sttheresa/sttheresa.htm

Interested, qualified applicants, should contact Roberto S. Matthews for further information, roberto@robertomusic.org, or 504 259 2934.

Dr. Meg Frazier is the Director of the School of Music and Director of Choral Activities at Loyola University New Orleans. A native Texan, Dr. Frazier earned her BMed and MM at Sam Houston State (studying with Bev Henson) and her DMA at LSU (studying with Ken Fulton). She taught in the Texas public schools before beginning her college teaching career at Beloit College in Wisconsin and subsequently moving to New Orleans and Loyola in 1998.

Dr. Frazier is a frequent guest clinician and conductor; she has conducted all-state choirs in Florida, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alaska, and Louisiana and all region choirs in 15 states. She adjudicates for multiple music festivals each season, both in New Orleans and regionally.

Dr. Frazier is the Artistic Director/Conductor for the award-winning choirs of NOVA, a community-based choral organization. NOVA's Masterworks serves as the symphony chorus for the Louisiana Philharmonic Orchestra. NOVA and the Loyola choirs also collaborate regularly with the New Orleans Opera.
Originally from Béarn, Loriane Llorca began her musical studies of the piano and organ at the Pau Conservatory with Jesus Martin Móro. She then studied the harpsichord at the Conservatoire de Toulouse with Stéphane Bois, Michel Bouvard, and Jan Willem Jansen, and the pianoforte with Yasuko Uyama-Bouvard.

Loriane holds a degree in Musicology from the University of Paris (the Sorbonne). As a musician, she combines theory and practice, tradition and modernity. Passionate about a wide variety of repertoire, and exhibiting mastery and eclecticism, Miss Llorca strives to present a wide variety of works highlighting the musical richness of the organ.

Pleased to join in concert with other musicians, she accompanies regularly with great felicity singers, instrumentalists: violin, flute, ensembles and orchestras: Orchestra of the Capitol of Toulouse.

In 2016, as the recipient of financial awards from the Fondation de France-Ustaritz, the Meyer Foundation, the Tarrazi Foundation and the Rhine Gold, she joined Olivier Latry and Michel Bouvard's Classes at the National Conservatory of Music in Paris.

In 2017, she won the Grand Prize and the Audience Prize at the Jean-Louis Florentz International Competition, under the auspices of the Académie des Beaux-Arts - Institut de France.

For the year 2018-2019, Loriane Llorca was a student resident organist at the Conservatoire National de Danse et de Musique de Paris and solo organist for the Master of the Center for Baroque Music of Versailles. She begins her appointment as the Eleventh Young Artist-In-Residence in December.

A CHRISTMAS ORGAN SPECTACULAR!

Thursday, December 19th at 6PM
Matthew Buller, a native of Lake Charles, Louisiana, is a recent graduate of the Oberlin Conservatory of Music in Oberlin, Ohio, where he was an undergraduate, graduate, and Artist Diploma student in Organ Performance. At the age of 14, Matthew commenced his church music career by playing organ at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Lake Charles. Prior to his move to Ohio in 2012, he held numerous positions around Lake Charles, including promotion to Assistant Organist at Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. In August 2019, he was appointed organist at St. Joseph Seminary College in Covington, Louisiana, and in September 2019 was appointed to the organist roster at St. Luke the Evangelist Parish in Slidell, Louisiana.

In May 2017, Matthew graduated with a Bachelor of Music in Organ Performance and a Master of Music in Organ and Historic Performance, and in May 2019, he earned his Artist Diploma in Organ Performance, all from Oberlin Conservatory of Music. During his studies, he had the privilege of studying under numerous teachers, including James David Christie, Jonathan Moyer, and Arvid Gast, in addition to guest professor Madame Marie-Louise Langlais in the fall of 2012 and 2016. He also studied with Nathan Laube in 2012, Liuwe Tamminga and Jean-Baptiste Robin in the fall of 2014, and with Philippe Lefebvre in the fall of 2015. During his junior year, Matthew had the opportunity to study with John Grew and Olivier Latry at the McGill Summer Organ Academy in Montreal, Quebec. In addition to organ studies, Matthew also studied harpsichord at Oberlin with Webb Wiggins and fortepiano with David Breitman.

Matthew Buller has concertized extensively throughout the United States and Canada and he has also performed in France. Matthew won the 2015 Dallas Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and was a finalist in the Southwest Region of the American Guild of Organists during the same year. During his undergraduate years, he was chosen by the organ faculty to represent the department on the Danenberg Honors Recital. He served on the faculty of the Oberlin Summer Organ Academy in 2017 and 2018 and also served as Prof. Christie’s teaching assistant as part of his Artist Diploma studies during the 2017-2018 academic year. On 11 May 2018, he performed with the Oberlin Orchestra under the direction of Raphael Jiménez in Camille Saint-Saëns’s Symphonie No. 3 avec orgue on the Cavaillé-Coll inspired organ built by C. B. Fisk in Finney Chapel. Finally, on 5 May 2019, Matthew performed with the Oberlin Musical Union under the direction of Gregory Ristow Benjamin Britten’s Missa Brevis and Maurice Duruflé’s Messe Cum Jubilo.

Welcome, Matthew!!
