Feast of the Seven Sorrows of Our Lady

Wednesday 15 September

"O all ye that pass by the way, attend, and see if there be any sorrow like to my sorrow! Is this, then, the first cry of that sweet babe whose coming brought such pure joy to our earth? Is the standard of suffering to be so soon unfurled over the cradle of such lovely innocence? Yet the heart of mother Church has not deceived her; this feast, coming at such a time, is ever the answer to that question of the expectant human race: What shall this child be?"

The Savior to come is not only the reason of Mary's existence, He is also her exemplar in all things. It is as his Mother that the Blessed Virgin came, and therefore as the Mother of Sorrows; for the God, whose future birth was the very cause of her own birth, is to be in this world a Man of Sorrows and acquainted with infirmity. To whom shall I compare thee? sings the prophet of lamentations: O Virgin...great as the sea is thy destruction. On the mountain of Sacrifice, as Mother she gave her Son, as Bride she offered herself together with Him; by her sufferings both as Bride and as Mother, she was the co-redemptress of the human race. This teaching and these recollections were deeply engraved on our hearts on that other feast of our Lady's Dolors, which immediately preceded Holy Week.

Christ dieth now no more: and Our Lady's sufferings are over. Nevertheless the Passion of Christ is continued in His elect, in His Church, against which hell vents the rage it cannot exercise against Himself. To this Passion of Christ's mystical Body of which she is also a Mother, Mary still contributes her compassion; how often have her venerated images attested to the fact, by miraculously shedding tears!"

~ Dom Prosper Guéranger (d. 1875)
