Parents:

This year we missed having Breakfast With Dad and Mom's Tea at school.

(You may be doing these things already since most of us are at home right now.)

However, even if you're working from home, try to take a special break this week--- just with your preschooler.

Dad, try to have a breakfast with your preschooler. You could plan and prepare it together. Then spend some special time with him/her during the day. (Play inside or outside, go for a walk, read a book, watch a movie, go fishing.

Mom, set aside an hour or so during an afternoon for tea and a snack with your preschooler. Plan the menu, play a game, pretend, make a craft, sing, get dressed up and go for a walk.

See attachments in email.

Thank you for all that you are doing!

Have a great week!
