Emily Palladino, a 10 year old cheerleader, got third place in the CYO “God Demands Love” art contest! She really loves art and was very enthusiastic about this contest.

The prizes that she won were money and a lucky coin. She enjoys the lucky coin very much. She says that the coin is very valuable. She also says it is one of her prized possessions. She was very surprised and excited. When she heard her name announced on the loudspeaker she was beaming with pride and excitement!

This was Emily’s first win for her artwork and she hopes to continue submitting her artwork to future contests.
