To whom this may concern:

Securly was built by enterprise security veterans, on a singular mission of keeping children safe online. Over the past several years, we have built an extensive web-categorization database that has served 15,000 schools across the globe, and actively protects 10 Million students daily. Along with our database, we pioneered an AI based model for page categorization, allowing Securly to detect uncategorized new websites as they are found, and provide protection to our schools within minutes of such sites being discovered. We also use a combination of 3rd party web-categorization engines to further reinforce our web-categorization coverage. In our internal testing, we have confirmed Securly's effectiveness in CIPA compliance is comparable if not better than top vendors from both K-12 but also the enterprise security space. We also have confirmation from our Legal counsel that Securly's technology and services adequately serve the needs of CIPA compliance for schools as defined by the FCC.
