RCIA

The topic this week is The Existence of God/Faith and Reason. RCIA class will be held in the meeting room on the 2nd floor of the Burkley Center at 7:00 p.m. In our second week of RCIA, we will be looking at faith. What is it? Is it some leap in the dark in defiance of all logic and reason? Does having faith lessen your human nature or accentuate it? Why does God require faith at all? And finally, lots of different religions demand faith, so how can we determine why we should be Catholics as opposed to becoming Scientologists, Mormons, Hindus, or anything else?

With the beginning of a new season we are seeking some help with hospitality for our meetings in the form of snacks. If you are able to assist the RCIA class in this way, please contact Deacon Roger Minner at rjminner@sbcglobal.net

The Diocese of Columbus encourages anyone who may have experienced sexual abuse by clergy or others associated with the Church to contact the police and the diocesan victim's assistance coordinator at 614-224-2251, 866-448-0217, or at helpisavailable@columbuscatholic.org.

St. Thérèse helped people understand that sanctity was not for a limited few, but for all the baptized. Her childlike confidence and abandonment to Jesus led her to offer up to the Lord the simple duties and obligations of her religious life. She believed that nothing was too little to give Jesus, and nothing done out of love for him was insignificant. St. Thérèse was confident that Christ longed to lift everyone up to the height and depth and breadth of holiness.
