Work of Mercy

Corporal works of mercy: Corporal works of mercy are those that tend to the bodily needs of other creatures. The standard list is given by Jesus in Chapter 25 of the Gospel of Matthew (Mt 25:31-46), in the famous sermon on the Last Judgment. They are also mentioned in the Book of Isaiah 58:6-7. The seventh work of mercy comes from the Book of Tobit: 1:16-22. The works include:

To feed the hungry.	To visit the sick.
To give water to the thirsty.	To visit the imprisoned,
To clothe the naked.	To bury the dead.
To shelter the homeless.

Spiritual works of mercy: Just as the corporal works of mercy are directed towards relieving corporeal suffering, the aim of the spiritual works of mercy is to relieve spiritual suffering. The works include:

To instruct the ignorant.	wrong us.
To counsel the doubtful.	To forgive offenses.
To admonish the sinners.	To comfort the afflicted.
To bear patiently those who	To pray for the living &

LITURGY OF WORD

First Reading: Ezekiel 34: 11-12, 15-17

Second Reading: 1Cor15:20-26,28

Gospel Reading: Matt 25: 31-46

The first reading presents God as a Shepherd reminding us of Christ's claim to be the True Shepherd. Today's Responsorial Psalm (Ps 23) serves as our act of Faith, Trusting Love and thanksgiving offered to Jesus, Who is our Good Shepherd. In the second reading, St. Paul introduces Christ as the all-powerful Ruler who raises the dead and to whom every other power and authority must eventually give way.

Today's Gospel presents Christ the King coming in Heavenly glory to judge us, based on how we have shared our love and blessings with others through genuine acts of charity in our lives. Matthew adds a new dimension to the risen Jesus' presence in the Christian community in the parable of the Last Judgment. Jesus is present to us now, not only as our Good Shepherd leading, feeding and healing his sheep, but also as dwelling in those for whom we care. In the parable of the separation of sheep from goats in the Last Judgment, every person to whom we give ourselves in loving service, "whether hungry, thirsty or a stranger, naked, sick or in prison," is revealed to us as having been the risen Jesus. Our reward or punishment depends on how we have loved and served this risen Jesus in the needy.

We are called to ask ourselves "What does love ask of me, where is it urging me to go? What answer am I giving Jesus with my life?" - Pope Francis.

"There is no true prayer without a spirit of humility."
