“We need light and hope. We need paths of healing and salvation.” - Pope Francis

....Mother....

All that we are and will be because of her....Mother is one who loves us so much that we fail to understand it sometimes. She is one who constantly make us realize that we are very good. Mother is one who smiles, when we are happy and cries when we cry. She is one we cannot live without. Mother means everything to us. Mother's Day is a day to celebrate motherhood and show appreciation for mothers, including (great-) grandmothers, stepmothers, foster mothers and other mother figures. Mother is the first connection for you to this manifest world. You came into this world through mother, and of course because of your father too. There is motherhood in each and every one of us. Motherhood is wanting the best for others and not expecting anything in return. Every mother wants the best for their kids. Sometimes kids don't recognize it. She is precious because, in many ways, she saw us as a part of herself. Motherhood is divine, and that mothers are God incarnate on Earth. Most mothers have spent their whole lives in service, whether to their family, or the family they have married into. They tirelessly strive to keep their household running, without accounting for their own needs.

The lady has not got the life she deserved, and doing everything in our capacity to make sure she gets the life she deserves.

Happy Mother's Day

LITURGY OF WORD

First Reading: Acts 10:25-26,34-35,44-48

Second Reading: 1John 4:7-10

Gospel Reading: John 15:9-17

In the first reading, Peter teaches us that God shows no partiality in His love and that there are no boundaries to abiding in love. God loves everyone, both the Jews and the Gentiles, and He wants everyone to be saved through His son, Jesus. That is why God welcomed the Roman centurion Cornelius as the first non-Jew to become a Christian. The reading tells us how God also allowed the Gentiles who heard Peter's speech to receive the same Holy Spirit and His gifts that Peter's Jewish audience had received on the day of Pentecost. In the second reading, John defines God as love and explains that He expressed His love for mankind by sending His son to die for us humans "as expiation for our sins." This Divine love gives us the command as well as duty to love one another as we have been loved by God. Since God has loved us first, we can and should love God in return, love ourselves properly, and love one another.

After telling the parable of the vine and branches, Jesus, in today's Gospel, teaches the disciples that are to obey his commandment of love just as Jesus has obeyed his Heavenly Father's will by fulfilling His commandments and remaining inseparably bonded with his Father. Jesus' unconditional, forgiving, selfless, sacrificial love for us must be the criterion of our love for others. The highest expression of this love is our willingness to lay down our lives as Jesus did, for people who don't deserve it. The goal and result of our abiding in love, in God, will be perfect joy. Jesus no longer calls us slaves but now calls us "friends." He tells us that he has chosen us, and that, if we use Jesus' name, we can ask the Father for anything.

"Intense love does not measure. It just gives." - St. Mother Teresa
