SPIRITUAL COMMUNION

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen

PRAYER INTENTIONS OF POPE FRANCIS FOR MARCH:

Sacrament of Reconciliation

Let us pray that we may experience the sacrament of reconciliation with renewed depth, to taste the infinite mercy of God.

As we move to the middle part of Lent, it is good to reflect on how well we are seeing the Cross in our daily lives. It should be a rather simple task, but it is one that even the first followers of Christ struggled with at different points in their relationship with Him. In last week's daily readings, we come to the moment when Jesus once again tells his intimate followers He will face the Cross quite soon, and they get distracted by who gets to sit on His right or left. It is a great reminder that even for the apostles it was to hear and understand what the Cross was and is for Jesus. Hopefully, in our individual and communal meditations on the nature of the Cross and Christ's Passion, we are not offering ourselves to Jesus out of a sense of ambition or worldly success, but out of a sincere desire to be true suffering servants as well in the vineyard of the Lord.

If we keep our hearts on the Cross as St. Josemaria Escriva once articulated, we will be able to have the keen sight to see our faults and vices in its light and start to make real progress in becoming the disciples we are called to be. Once we see more clearly who we are and who we are called to be, we can put aside merely ambitious thoughts and start to experience the grace filled life that is ready for us at a moment's notice. We can truly glorify the Lord by our lives connected to the Cross and help so many others to do the same: just as we say during the Stations of the Cross, by your Holy Cross redeem the world.

In Christ, Fr. Hurley

WALKING WITH CHRIST THROUGH LENT

Reflection: Pause for a moment to recognize the beauty of the Lenten season. Feel a deeper sense of compassion toward those in need and a renewed relationship with God.

"After He was raised from the dead, His disciples recalled what He had said. Then they believed the scripture and the words Jesus had spoken." (Jn 2: 22)

My Offering to God:

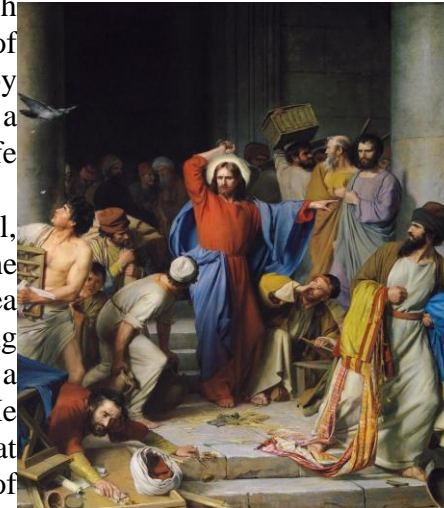

I will recall the times I have seen God's work and thank Him for His goodness.

GOSPEL REFLECTIONS:

EX 20:1-17; PS 19:8, 9, 10, 11; 1 COR 1:22-25; JN 2:13-25

Our readings call us to roll up our sleeves and persevere through the remainder of Lent by committing to a more faithful life with Christ.

In today's Gospel, Jesus purifies the temple area because it is being misused as a marketplace. He becomes angry at their lack of reverence for God.

He spills the coins of the money changers and overturns tables, saying, "Take these out of here, and stop making my Father's house a marketplace."

Jesus witnessed the way people mistreated the temple — the place to worship God and God alone. He drives out evil and works to purify all that is sinful in that place. This is what Jesus wants to do for us this Lenten season. He wants to remove all impurity and evil in our lives and hearts so that we may have a proper dwelling place for the Holy Spirit. Let us ask ourselves, what areas of our life need cleansing? Let us name those areas and invite Jesus to purify us. He became man to carry our burdens and wipe away our sins. He has given us boundless mercy, but we must do our part to seek it and commit to living a more faithful life as a disciple of Christ. With this knowledge, let us seek to be purified from our sins so that our hearts might be a true temple of the Holy Spirit.

This season of Lent is only halfway done — there is still time to work through our shortcomings and purify our hearts for Easter morning. But let us not waste another moment. Let us name our shortcomings, seek God's mercy and invite Him to transform our hearts.

Third Week of Lent: Sustainability in El Salvador

Drought has become a big problem across El Salvador, making it difficult for farmers to produce enough crops to support their families. But new farming techniques – and a new generation of young farmers – are making a difference. What would you do if your livelihood was threatened? How can you support young people in your community and around the world?

Let us Pray: For young people in El Salvador and the entire world, that they might find training and job opportunities to thrive and transform their communities. For our community, that we invest in and support our young people, who work to promote positive change for our human family, especially its most vulnerable members.
