Dear Parishioners,
This bulletin will cover the weekend of December 22nd and December 29th. This is the one time of year where our bulletin publisher prints for two weeks because of the holiday schedule.

As we head into the last weekend before Christmas, I pray that you have had an Advent where you have grown—This can be challenging [especially when you think of the many challenges that we face during the Advent and Christmas seasons: end of year deadlines at work, shopping for Christmas, cooking & baking, preparing for visitors, etc., etc., etc… ]

It can seem busy, chaotic, and at times a mess, but we have to remember that Jesus is no stranger to chaos.
I think about the Holy Family, preparing for the first Christmas. Imagine, if you would, the Blessed Mother and St. Joseph - Our Lady is about to give birth to the Son of God and they don’t have a place to stay – there is no room at the inn. Then they are given a stable for animals and within that stable they use a feeding trough for a crib. Next, they receive visitors in the midst of this situation – shepherds in the field and 3 magi from the east. On top of this, from what we know, the animals were still present.

From the outside, this seems like a mess. I have seen parents prepare and prepare for the birth of a child, painting a room and buying furniture so that the room will be “just right” when the child arrives. The Blessed Mother and St. Joseph didn’t have that luxury. I have seen parents hold off on visitors until they get settled with a new baby. With animals, shepherds and magi from the east, the Blessed Mother and St. Joseph didn’t have that luxury.

How did they keep their cool? They kept their priorities straight. They prayed and the Holy Spirit navigated them through muddy waters. They kept their focus on the Son of God in the womb of Our Lady. My assumption is that seeing God in the flesh was so overwhelming that the chaos fell into the background.

My hope and prayer is that you can keep your eyes fixed on Jesus, so that any chaos surrounding the final week of Advent, the start of the Christmas season, and the transition of a new year may not leave you feeling like you are failing. You are loved.

God is with us. God is with us in the mist of our struggle. God is for us in the battles we fight. God works through us to be messengers of mercy, love and hope. May God bless you and your families!
