Suicide Protocol Review
with Laura Lewis

Laura Lewis graduated from Ohio Dominican University in Columbus, Ohio in 1999 with her Bachelor of Arts degrees in Psychology and Theology. In June 2010, she received her Master of Arts (M.A.) in Counselor Education from The Ohio State University and is also a Supervising Professional Clinical Counselor (L.P.C.C-S) independently licensed by the State of Ohio Counselor, Social Worker, Family & Marriage Therapist Board (License #E.1000102SUPV). Laura is currently the Assistant Director of the Suicide Prevention Program at The Ohio State University where she coordinates a campus wide comprehensive program designed to educate and train students, staff, and faculty in suicide prevention education, outreach, and advocacy by creating a campus where everyone supports mental health help-seeking.
