Pentecost Sunday

In Baptism and Confirmation, as well as Holy Communion, the gifts of the Holy Spirit are poured out upon us so that we might build up the Church and lead others to faith in Jesus Christ. Today, take a moment to consider the many gifts that you have been given, especially spiritual gifts, and pray for the grace to understand how you can utilize them most effectively for the mission of your family, parish, and the Church as a whole. The Holy Spirit is powerful in our lives if we allow Him entry into our hearts. He is the Consoler, the Advocate, the Paraclete. The Holy Spirit, as the readings show us today, gives us joy and peace, a peace unlike any other the world can give. When we respond generously to grace and allow ourselves to be filled with the Holy Spirit, we will set hearts on fire, one person at a time, and be truly free. Archstl.org/dynamic

The Pastor's Workshop

A few points-

My thanks to the Garden squad that recently cleaned out the winter leftovers, and planted new flowers. Mary's garden area looks great. Thanks for the time and energy from our volunteer ladies.

I mentioned at Mass that we are looking down the road to repainting and upgrading the decoration of the church at St. Joseph. Such a task is not done overnight. In the meantime if we could begin the process of trying to build up a designated fund for the interior work it would be helpful. Church decorating is a very specialized art. It needs to be planned out in time a year or so, both for the decorating company and for the raising of funds. I am asking that any fund raisers we have from here on, half of the funds go into this designated pot. In the meantime, if you have any available funds that can assist us in getting started, this would be helpful.

The Annual Catholic Appeal 2018 for both St. J and St. A is going well. We have definitely seen more involvement of new contributors. Tip O'Neill used to say that politics is always local. The challenge each year is to assist parish members to recognize that many things as a Catholic community are regional – and they need our attention and participation as well. Catholic means 'universal', thus it throws a very wide umbrella. The ACA does as well, touching pretty much all the life organs of our St. Louis Catholic faith. As I have said a number of times, even if it is a $1.....it's more than a 0. A zero gets you nowhere, and is never helpful to the solution. Thanks to our leaders at both St. J and St. A.

Finally, Monday (May 21) is my 41st anniversary as a priest. Like everyone who has had a career or vocation, you know that some things went as you dreamed and planned.....and other things were complete surprises. So often in the surprises, we have to surrender to the plan of God (God is in control anyway!), and come to realize that God has much more in store for us than we imagined. Last year at this time, I visited for the first time both Bonne Terre and French Village, after a phone call from the Archbishop. Yes I have been in this Archdiocese for more than 6 decades – and my world was not so very large. I am pleased to be with you now, and thank you for all the kindnesses shown this past year. Let's all pray for the new priests and deacons to be ordained in the next few weeks for our Archdiocese. 25 for the permanent Diaconate, and 2 for the Priesthood. This coming Saturday May 26 is the priesthood ordinations at the Cathedral.
