Most Holy Trinity

John 16:12-15

“Everything the Father has is mine . . .”

The spirit of competition in our culture is strong. Some people find it difficult to acknowledge that they are not solely responsible for their achievements. We can be very presumptuous. The words and phrases we use, our tone and dialect, come from the people who raise us, or from teachers who help us learn another way. People who are successful in business or sports owe much to the parents, teachers, coaches, teammates, supervisors and co-workers who helped them on their journey to success. The intimate, albeit mysterious, union of the Three Persons of the Holy Trinity, and our union with Jesus, is reflected in the words of Jesus, “Everything the Father has is mine; for this reason I told you he will take from what is mine and declare it to you.” Do we demonstrate in the way we live that everything we have comes from God, belongs to God and is intended to be used for ourselves and for others? Does our life reflect our gratitude to our Triune God and to all who helped us to be who we are?

The Most Holy Trinity Sunday

The feast of the Blessed Trinity, which we celebrate today, brings us face to face with the mystery of God. We know certain things about God by looking at creation. But it is Jesus who reveals to us the mystery of God.

The two readings today, the second reading (Romans 5:1-5) and the Gospel (John 16:12-15) are chosen because they specifically mention the three persons of the Blessed Trinity, and the role of each in our salvation.

These five verses of Saint Paul's letter to the Romans brings out very clearly the doctrine of the Blessed Trinity. Each of the three divine persons has a part in our justification. We are at peace with God the Father through the death and resurrection of the Son, Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit continually lives in us, keeping the love of God alive and active in our hearts.

Through our belief in Christ who had become man in order to make us children of God, all of us Christians are on our way to our justification, that is, to the eternal happiness with God for which we have been created.

That there are three persons in the one God, each infinite in power, in glory, in wisdom, is a fact we can accept because the Triune God has revealed it to us. "No one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son chooses to reveal to him." (Matthew 11:27) For this reason, the apostles confess Jesus to be the Word: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God," (John 1:1) as "The image of the invisible God," (Colossians 1:15) as the radiance of the glory of God and the very stamp of His nature. (Hebrews 1:3).

Jesus said to His disciples, "For I have not spoken on my own. What I speak, therefore, I speak just as the Father has told me." (John 12:49) As Christ's authority to speak came from the Father, the authority of the Holy Spirit will be from the Son and the Father, who is Christ the Son. (John 14:10).

The truth He will announce will be spoken with the authority of the three divine persons. The truth the Holy Spirit will announce, he will receive it from the Son, who in turn had received it from the Father. "All that the Father has is mine, therefore I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you." (John 16:15) This shows that all three persons cooperate in the salvation of man. The Son incarnate established the church through the power and authority of the Father. The Holy Spirit will continue to uphold and teach the church through the power and authority of the Father and the Son. The one God in three divine persons is the author of human salvation.

Today as we celebrate and honor the three divine persons, our central thought should concentrate on gratitude to each of the three, the loving Father who planned not only our creation but our elevation to adopted children, the all obedient loving Son, who carried out the Father's plan, sharing with us in our humanity so that we could share with Him in His divinity, the Holy Spirit, fruit of the love of the Father and the Son, who had come to dwell in the church and in each individual member, in order to fill our hearts with a true love of God.

We know that we are unworthy of this divine generosity. The greatest saints that ever lived on earth were unworthy of such divine interest. We can show our gratitude in one way only, that is by appreciating our privilege and by striving to show our appreciation in our daily lives.

The Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit know all our human weaknesses, they knew them before they arranged to make us sharers in their own eternal happiness. They know also that it is those of us who try and try again to rise above our human weaknesses, who will finally share their heaven with them. This possibility is open to all. The Blessed Trinity will exclude no one from heaven except those who follow the wrong path.

May God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit grant us the strength to overcome our human weaknesses and live and die in their love so that we may share their eternal kingdom with them. Amen!

Have a Peaceful and Joyful Sunday!
