GOOD NEWS

Last weekend we added a new item to our parish app. Fr. Jim is now posting audio of his weekend homilies. You will be able to hear them if you tap the box marked "Homilies" in the app. The response has been very positive.

If you have any difficulties listening to the audio, please call Chris at the rectory. (314) 428-2262.

Dear parish family,

Last week I was informed that, even though all churches were closed, our monthly offertory was basically the same as the month before. Way to go, folks!

I doubt a parish in the diocese can claim, that in this extraordinary event of having all parishes shuttered, no Masses at all, they have had such a responsible and committed outpouring of giving. You are to be congratulated and praised. I am proud to be your pastor.

Pax Christi,
Fr. Jim

NOTES ABOUT THIS AND THAT

1. The tall purple candle in our votive stand remains continually lit "For the People." Often the only movement in the church is the flame in that candle. Although the spirit remains, the church feels so empty and lifeless, missing the sound of voices united in prayer and song.
2. Speaking of things that move in the church, with the pews being absent of people scooting across them for so long, it looks like we may actually have to dust them manually before your return. Hm.
3. Looking forward and taking small steps in preparation for the re-opening of parishes for Mass ... whenever that may be, we have already secured disposable masks and hand sanitizer packets for a few weekends. They will be handed out to all the folks who attend.
4. At the Rectory: A). Chris has been pulling out her hair while nagging Fr Jim [a lot] about the IT hurdles with the new APP and seemingly endless other tech challenges. B). As a fix, Fr Jim has opted to wear noise-canceling headphones.

Fr Jim is still available for confessions each Thursday evening from 6:00 PM until 7:30 PM.
