Continuing information on Supreme Court's decision on sexual orientation: A man and woman made for each other has public significance and holding to belief in this is reasonable. A man and woman are irreplaceable in marriage, not interchangeable. Children have a right to be raised by a mother and father whenever possible. This, in turn, enables society to flourish. When we disconnect sexual activity from the permanence of marriage and from natural openness to children, or when we deny our God-given sexual activity, we make our relationship more about us and our feelings than about ourselves or serving others. On a large scale, this can have a community effect too, as in the further erosion of the family and its attendant social consequences. (Deacon Roger)

We wish a special happy birthday to Erlene A. Goertz on the occasion of her 95th birthday, which she celebrates on July 21. May God bless you and keep you for many more years. (Fr. Dariusz)
