

Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time, October 11, 2020

Jesus spoke to the chief priests and elders of the people saying, "The Kingdom of Heaven may be likened to a king who gave a wedding feast for his son."
- Mt 22:1-14

May they embrace their trials in union with the Crucified Christ for the salvation of souls, and the remission of sins.

COVID – 19

Awareness and care for ourselves and others has been in the forefront of messages like # we're all in this together, and has been repeated over and over. All the directives for the celebration of Mass and the reception of the Sacraments during this time of the Coronavirus pandemic remain in effect.

Please Remember:

Wear a mask - for your protection and others.

Social distance - 6 feet away from your neighbor in the pews, standing in line for Holy Communion and at the Communion Rail.

Take your conversations outside after Mass has ended - no gathering inside the Church.

If you are sick, stay home – You are dispensed from assisting at Mass until further notice.

Without our best, conscious effort - we could face the possibility of closing Churches again!

BE SMART, STAY HEALTHY, # *we're all in this together!

World Mission Sunday – Next weekend, October 17/18 we will celebrate World Mission Sunday. Pope Francis invites the entire Church to support mission dioceses in Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands, and parts of Latin America and Europe, where priests, religious and lay leaders serve the world's most vulnerable communities. Please keep the Pope's missions in your prayers and be generous in next weekend's collection. May God Bless You!

A BRIEF CATECHISM FOR CATHOLIC VOTERS by Fr. Stephen F. Torracco, Ph.D.

If I think that a pro-abortion candidate will, on balance, do much more for the culture of life than a pro-life candidate, why may I not vote for the pro-abortion candidate? If a political candidate promoted abortion, or any other moral evil, such as assisted suicide and euthanasia, for that matter, it would not be morally permissible for you to vote for that person. This is because, in voting for such a person, you would become an accomplice in the moral evil at issue. For this reason, moral evils such as abortion, euthanasia, and assisted suicide, are examples of a "disqualifying issue." A disqualifying issue is one which is of such gravity and importance that it allows for no political maneuvering. It is an issue that strikes at the heart of the human person and is non-negotiable. A disqualifying issue is one of such enormity that by itself it renders a candidate for office unacceptable regardless of his position on other matters. You must sacrifice your feelings on other issues because you know that you cannot participate in any way in an approval of a violent and evil violation of basic human rights. A candidate for office who promotes abortion rights or any other moral evil had disqualified himself as a person that you can vote for. You do not have to vote for a person because he is pro-life. However, you may not vote for any candidate who promotes abortion rights. Key to understanding the point above about "disqualifying issues" is the distinction between policy and moral principle. On the one hand, there can be a legitimate variety of approaches to accomplishing a morally acceptable goal. For example, in a society's effort to distribute the goods of health care to its citizens, there can be legitimate disagreement among citizens and political candidates alike as to whether this or that health care plan would most effectively accomplish society's goal. In the pursuit of the best possible policy or strategy, technical, as distinct (although not separate) from moral reason is operative. Technical reason is the kind of reasoning involved in arriving at the most efficient or effective result. On the other hand, no policy or strategy that is opposed to the moral principles of the natural law is morally acceptable. Thus, technical reason should always be subordinate to and normed by moral reason, the kind of reasoning that is the activity of conscience and that is based on the natural moral law.
