Dear Parents,

Our year is off to a great start! Your children are wonderful and we are enjoying our time with them. Here is an update of things that have been going on in our classroom.

Weekly newsletters will be available online at the end of each week. We do send out the first one so that you are aware that one is published each week. This newsletter is a great source of communication.

It is very important that you review it each week online. Please take note of any important information and upcoming events which are always noted at the bottom. The newsletter will be posted each Friday.

Also, please remember to empty your child's folder each night.

Here are a few highlights from our week:

- Count and compare the amount of letters in their names
- Make a booklet of school items
- Decorate traced letters in their name
- Illustrate pictures of school words
- Build a Schoolhouse (STEM)
- Discuss genre and narrative stories
- Listen to If You Give a Pig a Pancake

Something special happened this week:

This week we also went to our first school Mass with our 8th Grade Buddies. The Kindergartners are paired with an 8th Grader that will help them with special events such as the Halloween Parade and Elves Workshop. This is a wonderful relationship to watch develop throughout the year.

We have been practicing for a fire drill and the kids did a great job exiting the building when the fire department came to evaluate us.

Looking Ahead: September 8th – Pancake Breakfast from 8-11am in the Church Hall

(Please help support our 8th Grade Buddies earn money for their trip to Washington DC)

September 13th – September 15th – Family Festival Weekend – FUN

FOR ALL!

September 25th - Curriculum Night

(We look forward to seeing all parents that evening)
