“The Lord is my light and my salvation.”

-First Reading

Genesis 15:5-12, 17-18

This passage recounts the making of a covenant between God and Abraham. Ancient Near Eastern people often established a covenant by cutting animals in half and setting the halves opposite of each other. The participants then walked in the blood flowing between the halves, thereby establishing a blood relationship. But the covenant we will hear about today involves God, who will participate in a more dramatic way.

-Second Reading

Philippians 3:17-4:1

The ancient city of Philippi was located in what is today northeastern Greece. Paul's community of converts at Philippi was especially dear to him. In this section of his letter to them, Paul is upset — but not with them, He has heard that false teachers have come to the community, teaching that Jewish food laws and the rite of circumcision applied even to Christians.
