Class in the Catholic Faith – Symbolon (Formed.org)

Monday: October 15, 6:45 – 8:00 pm (Q&A 7:45 pm)
Session 3: Living The Creed: Penance and Anointing of the Sick – God, in His infinite mercy, understands that we will fall short, we will sin—but He doesn't leave us in that sin. Through the Sacrament of Penance, we can be restored to love and friendship with God and receive the grace to mend our relationships with each other. Like the father of the prodigal son, He welcomes us back at the smallest sign of our sorrow and repentance. Just as Jesus did not condemn the adulterous woman, He forgives us completely and tells us to "Go and sin no more." Little wonder then that the Sacrament of Penance, also known as Reconciliation, is one of the last and greatest gifts Jesus left us. When He told his Apostles after the Resurrection, "If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven," He gave them authority to bestow the Father's tangible mercy to all generations that follow. The Session Will Cover:

- Why Penance is such an important part of Catholic faith
- Why we confess our sins to a priest
- A step-by-step guide to reception of the sacrament
- The benefits and graces of frequent Confession
- And finally, a look at the other Sacrament of Healing—Anointing of the Sick

Before our Lord ordained the Apostles, He prayed saying, "Father, they are your gift to me" (Jn. 17:24). Christ has called our seminarians to make a gift of themselves in the priesthood, and He calls each one of us to make a generous gift of our resources to support the mission of the Church. Please consider giving generously to the Bishop's Appeal for Vocations, in thanksgiving for the generosity of Jesus Christ and His Church.

Think About Life...

We often hear people argue that women need legal abortion in order to achieve success in their lives. By this, they usually mean that having an abortion will make it easier for women to finish school, get ahead in their careers, or earn a comfortable salary. But this claim contains a very skewed notion of "success." People who are willing to sacrifice their own dreams for the sake of another human being often feel MORE successful than when they were pursuing their own educational or career goals, or spending money on things they wanted.

Christians believe that true "success" is about making a difference to other people and allowing God's unconditional Love into our lives. If you agree with that, then success cannot be defined by how many things you own, or by how smart, talented, beautiful, or able-bodied you are.

Abortion advocates frequently claim that if abortion becomes illegal, women will lose opportunities for success. But this ignores the fact that most parents believe the greatest accomplishment they've ever had was giving life to their children and raising them. It also ignores the fact that there are many ways to pursue your dreams without having to kill your own child.

Sometimes when people use the success argument to support abortion, they aren't talking about the success of the mother or the father. They're talking about the baby's chances of success in life. Some people believe that abortion should be legal if, during the pregnancy, the unborn baby is diagnosed with a disability, a serious illness, or a defect. They claim these children can never be successful. The first major problem with this attitude is that these diagnoses are frequently wrong – which means that the abortion would kill a healthy baby.

Secondly, and more importantly, it isn't true that people cannot be successful just because they are disabled. We wouldn't say that to an adult person with a disability, so why is it okay to say it about someone who is unborn with a disability?

Just because people can't do things in the same way that others can doesn't mean they can't have a successful life. The composer Ludwig van Beethoven was deaf; the famous physicist Stephen Hawking is quadriplegic, Franklin Delano Roosevelt (the 32nd President of the United States of America) had polio and was confined to a wheelchair his entire life; the Hollywood actor Tom Cruise is severely dyslexic. These people accomplished amazing things with their lives, despite their disabilities.

In extreme cases, there are some people born with disabilities that are so severe that they actually cannot do many physical or mental activities like walking, talking, and responding to others. But Christians believe that true success does not come from our physical or mental abilities. It comes from making a positive difference to other people, and surrendering to God's Love. The more we make a positive difference to others and the more we surrender to God, the more free we are to find true success.

Who says that a person with severe physical or mental disabilities cannot make a positive difference to other people? Who says she cannot surrender everything to God? In fact, many disabled people find that it is easier to focus on what's really important in life – like family, friends, love, generosity, patience, and putting their faith in God – because of their disability.
