Thirty-Second Sunday
In Ordinary Time

Jesus said to them, "The children of this age marry and remarry; but those who are deemed worthy to attain to the coming age and to the resurrection of the dead neither marry nor are given in marriage. They can no longer die, for they are like angels; and they are the children of God because they are the ones who will rise." - Lk 20:34-36

Registration is appreciated but not necessary, please call (715) 276-7364. Sponsored by St. Mary's Social Concerns Committee.

Serving Those Who Serve

This week our parish will take up a collection for the Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA. The AMS relies solely on private donors in support of its mission "serving those who serve" and its ministry to provide the same pastoral care and services to Catholics serving in the US Armed Forces, enrolled in military academies, and undergoing treatment at any of the VA Medical centers. Please prayerfully consider a generous contribution to those who defend our religious freedom.

Flu Season is here. . .Refrain from cup if sick

Dear Parishioners and Friends of St. Mary's of the Lake:

✠ Below is an excerpt from an article I read on line, which may help deepen our understanding on the doctrine of Purgatory:

The teaching on purgatory "consists of the conviction that God's mercy and justice must be kept intact and upheld. God's divine mercy refers to the fact that he forgives any sin as long as the sinner is truly repentant and sorry. God's justice, however, is that good is rewarded and evil punished. Catholics believe that purgatory evens the score and fulfills justice while accommodating mercy. They believe that purgatory isn't a place but a spiritual state of the soul in which it's purified before entering heaven. Known as the Church Suffering, the souls in purgatory are definitely & absolutely going to heaven, just not yet.

Think of it like this: Joe & Max were both born on the same day and both died on the same day. Joe was a gambler, boozier, and womanizer, and he was dishonest, lazy, and undependable. Max, on the other hand, spent his life obeying the Ten Commandments, practicing virtue, and loving God and neighbor. Just before dying, Joe repents of his old ways and accepts the Lord into his heart. Should Joe and Max both go to heaven at the same time? Catholicism teaches no. The Church believes that Jesus' death allows everyone the possibility of heaven, and his mercy grants forgiveness, but his justice demands that good be rewarded and evil punished in this life or the next. If one man struggles all his life to be good while another lives a life of selfishness, greed, and comfort, both can't walk through the pearly gates side by side.

It may help to think of the purgatory in terms of a major operation to save a life. Say a doctor performs surgery on someone's heart or brain & removes a cancerous tumor. The surgery achieves the main objective, but the wound needs to heal, and the incision needs to be cleaned and rebandaged.

Purgatory is like that secondary part of recovery --the healing, cleaning, and bandaging. The belief is that the evil of sin is revealed to the person so she can totally and absolutely reject even the most venial & smallest of sins. Often, after committing a sin, people regret it and are remorseful.

Catholics confess their sins and believe that God forgives them in the Sacrament of Penance. However, many times people still have pleasant memories of those sins. They're sorry and regret doing them, but they have some enjoyable and pleasurable memories --some leftover attachment to the sins. Catholicism teaches that the souls in purgatory want to be in purgatory, because they know that they have some leftover attachment to sin that they want to be removed." [You can read the entire Article is on <https://www.dummies.com/religion/christianity/catholicism/catholicism-and-purgatory/>].

Mission Sewing Circle News

Our clothes have made it to the Dominican Republic and Haiti! Over 350 shorts, sundresses and small blankets were donated to the Green Bay Mission Support ministry and were included in a recent shipment to the D.R. And Haiti. Many children have been effected by recent hurricanes and we know our handiwork will be greatly appreciated.

Over the years our "sewers" have made over 6000 items for needy children. But we need more "sewers" to continue our ministry. Even "snowbirds" can help us, too! Our patterns are simple and fabric is provided. Please come to our meeting on Thur. Nov 21, at 9:00 AM in the Church gathering space for information and supplies. Call Gerry Doran, 920-590-0239, if you have any questions or need to meet at another time.

Also, donations of STURDY COTTON FABRIC (1yard or more) are needed (please, no used sheets or clothing). Donations can be left in the blue bin in the Church hallway near the elevator. Thanks so much for all your support.
