Divine Mercy Reflections from St. Faustina's Diary

In the evening, I saw the Lord Jesus upon the cross. From His hands, feet, and side the Most Sacred Blood was flowing. After some time, Jesus said to me, All this is for the salvation of souls. Consider well, My daughter, what you are doing for their salvation.

I answered, "Jesus, when I look at Your suffering, I see that I am doing next to nothing for the salvation of souls." And the Lord said to me, Know, My daughter, that your silent day-to-day martyrdom in complete submission to My will ushers many souls into heaven. And when it seems to you that your suffering exceeds your strength, contemplate My wounds, and you will rise above human scorn and judgment. Meditation on My Passion will help you rise above all things (Diary, 1184).

November's Women of the Church study has been on Thea Bowman.

Thea Bowman is being recognized as an inspiring figure in Catholic history.

The granddaughter of freed slaves, Thea, a native of Mississippi, became a religious sister at a young age. Thea used her African-American religious heritage in her work as a teacher, professor, poet, musician and evangelist.

Despite cultural and health challenges of her own, Thea pursued a dynamic ministry schedule. She reached people all over the nation with her Gospel joy, even addressing the US Bishops at their annual meeting in 1989.

See the parish website www.stannastmary.org or folders in the back of church for more information on this incredible contemporary woman of faith.
