

Bishop Brennen suggested yesterday: "It would be good to begin to open our Churches for prayer to the extent that we are able in the next week or two. "In this light, the Churches will be open, starting next week, for private prayer and adoration at the following times: St Ann's - weekdays 9am-12pm, and Monday and Wednesday 7-9pm, St Mary's - during daylight hours. To initiate this gradual reopening process, we will have Exposition with Adoration this Friday 5/8/2020 from 7-9pm at St Ann's. Please keep in mind safe social distancing, and maximum number of persons per current government recommendations.

Please call for an appointment for confession the Saturday before Mass starting at 3:30pm. Please see last week's "Thoughts from the Deacon" for details. Five minute time slots, anonymous confessions. Now is the time to repent and confess in preparation for the renewal of public Masses which are to start Pentecost weekend 5/31/2020.

Hopefully with these pieces of good news will lighten the current burdens on your souls. There may be a light at the end of the tunnel! Pray for Holy Mother Church, pray for our Bishop, pray for all the sick and dying.
