fourth sunday of easter

HAPPY EASTER SEASON, AND GOD'S BLESSING TO ALL!

Adult Religious Education Classes

There will be Wednesday classes starting May 2nd at OLPH and will cover a variety of topics to increase our knowledge of the Catholic faith.

- May 2nd – How to read and understand Scripture
- May 9th – Understanding the Mass
- May 16th – Interpreting Sacred Art
- May 23rd – What is the Catechism?

Classes will be held at 7:00pm and will go through the summer. Childcare will be available on these nights as well! For any questions please contact- Jaob.unterseher@gmail.com or Lance\_keller@hotmail.com. This is open to both parishes as well as others interested.

What do we mean when we pray the Creed each week, saying that we "believe in one, holy, catholic, and apostolic Church.?" The Church is one because all its members believe the same faith, worship with the same sacraments, and follow the same authority (Christ's Vicar on earth, the pope). But the Church is universal because it is called to bring God's grace to every corner of the globe, to people of all times, places and cultures. Its job is to reunite the human race into one spiritual family, which was divided into conflicting tribes after original sin. One of the great expressions of this universality is the Church's tradition of encouraging the arts.

The beauty of great art has a universal appeal, as is evident, for example, through the millions of non-Catholic tourists who visit the basilicas of Rome each year. Pope Pius IX once had a chance encounter that wonderfully expresses this unity and universality of Christ's one flock.

One day he was walking alone through the Vatican galleries. He came upon a young Englishman who was gazing rapturously at one of Raphael's paintings. The Holy Father watched him from a distance, and then went up to him, saying, "I assume you are an artist, my son?" The young man admitted that he had come to Rome to study painting, but didn't have enough money to pay for instruction at the Academy. Pope Pius generously offered to give him a scholarship. "But, your Holiness," exclaimed the British youth, "I'm not even Catholic!" "Don't worry," the Holy Father answered with a smile, "Admission to the studios will not be denied you on that account." Christ's flock is one, but it is also universal, called to draw all people into the arms of the good shepherd.

Save the Date: Sunday, May 6, St Jude's 4th Annual Festival of Tables. We are soliciting prizes for the Lucky Buck Auction. Would any of you have a prize to donate, such as a weekend at your lake cabin, tickets to a sporting or entertainment event, prize from your business, cash to purchase a prize? Anything big or small would be used and appreciated. We list all donors on the program. Ladies we need your help. 1) sponsor/decorate a table 2) purchase a ticket ($20) and participate 3) help in the kitchen. Please consider participating. This is a fun event and a primary fund-raiser for our Altar Society. Call or text Rita West 701-213-7275 if you can help.

This summer OLPH will be hosting Young Disciples, an enthusiastic group of young adults who host Catholic Bible camps. Mark your calendars for "Expedition in Egypt" July 23rd-28th (9am-3pm) for grades K-6th and Teen Mission Nights on July 21st -22nd for grades 7th-12th. Watch for more details, coming soon! We are also in need of help hosting these camps. If you are interested in offering financial support to help with cost, serving lunches, or hosting the YD team in your home for the week, please contact Kristie Unterseher at kristie.unterseher@gmail.com.
