AUGUST MASS SCHEDULE:

5P SAT: SJ

8:30A SUN: SJ

10:30A SUN: OLPH

first kings 3:5, 7-12; psalms 119:57, 72, 76-77, 127-12;
romans 8:28-30; matthew 13:44-52 OR 13:44-46

Concern has been voiced that the number of candidates for Confirmation and First Communion were too large for the Church of St Jude. To alleviate this concern, I have decided to split the group into two and have Our Lady of Perpetual Help candidates celebrate these sacraments at 3 pm on August 15th. Since the schedule for the vigil Mass for the month of August is scheduled at St Jude's, the candidates for St Jude will celebrate these sacraments at 5 pm at St. Jude's

The reason for this changed is solely based on distancing concerns and having enough pews needed for each family.

Precautions are to be observed with distancing and the use of face masks as well as hand sanitizing.

Receiving from the Chalice will not be offered (Precious Blood of Our Lord). The Eucharist will be communicated through the Body of Our Lord in the bread.

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament is held from 5p to 9p at OLPH this Tuesday.

Hope, O my soul, hope. You know neither the day nor the hour. Watch carefully, for everything passes quickly, even though your impatience makes doubtful what is certain, and turns a very short time to a long one. Dream that the more you struggle, the more you prove the love that you bear your God, and the more you will rejoice one day will your Beloved, in a happiness and rapture that can never end." ^{ccc1821}

Parish and Cemetery Lawn and Snow Care at OLPH

Brad Adam will start to take care of the church and cemetery care starting 1 August 2020

To Help Understand the Scriptures for the 17th Sunday of Ordinary Time, the following references from the Catechism of the Catholic Church are provided:

CCC 407: cannot ignore wound of sin in discerning human situation

CCC 1777-1785: moral decision making in rapport with God's will

CCC 1786-1789: seeking will of God in divine law in difficult circumstances

CCC 1038-1041: separation of good and evil at Judgment

CCC 1037: God predestines no one to hell

Farewell and thank you to Ken and Tarra Ihry as they leave our parish.

They have been an integral part of our parish family; teaching religious education, member of the parish council and liturgy committee, a faithful participant in our CWO group and maintaining our church yard and cemetery for many years and so much more. They will be missed! Ken and Tarra, our prayers go with you. May you be blessed in your new home.

Prudence, or practical wisdom, or sound decision-making is one of the most important virtues anyone can acquire. It is the ability to know what to do in any situation and to act on that knowledge. Solomon had enough prudence to ask God for more of it. To obey and to love God's will is great prudence. To realize that God will judge me for the good and evil I do in this life is the beginning of prudence if it will move me to repent of the evil and to do good. Thomas Aquinas identified three steps or activities within prudence. They are counsel, judgment, and decision. Counsel means to deliberate about what to do, to think it over, to pray about it, to ask for advice, to use your intellect to try to discover the best thing to do with the time available. The man who discovered a treasure buried in a field could not ask other people what might be the best to do, so he had to counsel himself. Judgment means to decide what among the many possibilities is best, meaning both what will be both moral and likely to be effective. In some cases, the most prudent thing is to do nothing. The man who found the treasure reasoned that the best course of action was to sell everything he had and buy that field. That way, perhaps, no one could accuse him of stealing it from someone else. Decision means to take action. Based on what your reason tells you is best, you then tell your will to do it. The man did sell his worldly possessions and bought that field and so got the treasure. When it comes to the moral thing to do, prudence guides conscience. "The prudent man determines and directs his conduct in accordance with this judgment" of reason. Aided by prudence, "we apply moral principles to particular cases without error and overcome doubts about the good to achieve and the evil to avoid." (CCC 1806) Conscience does not determine what the moral principles are. Those principles are found in the natural law and the divine revealed law.

OLPH Religious Education Help Needed

Help us hand on the Catholic faith to the children of our parish! We are looking for one middle school teacher and others to assist in classrooms or with child care. Contact Kristie Unterseher if interested! kristie.unterseher@gmail.com
