13th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"...as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their want, so that their abundance may supply your want, that there may be equality." - 2 CORINTHIANS 8:14

One of the tenants of living a grateful and generous lifestyle is giving without expecting anything in return. It is important that we not only grow, nurture and share our gifts; but that we also teach our children and encourage others to do the same. This is the communal aspect of our Catholic faith. We are the "Body of Christ". We are called to be dependent on each other and not live in isolation.

Christ is our Savior; only he can redeem us from the sinfulness, instability, and weakness that plague our lives in this fallen world. But how do we receive this redemption? Jairus walked up to him and knelt in front of him, because Jesus was passing right through his town. The woman with a hemorrhage pressed through the crowds and activated God's power in her life by touching Christ's cloak. But what about us?

Jesus has ascended in to heaven; how can we touch his cloak? We can do so if we approach the sacraments with faith. The sacraments were instituted by Jesus himself, given to the Church precisely for this purpose, so that we would not have to wonder if God is still at work in our lives.

When we kneel before the priest in the confessional and open our hearts to God's mercy, we are like Jairus kneeling before Christ in Galilee. When we touch the body and blood of Jesus under the appearances of bread and wine in the Eucharist, we are like the woman with the hemorrhage: Christ's divine strength flows into our weak, wounded, fallen lives. The same Jesus of the Gospels is still at work through the sacraments, still present and active in history, still healing, giving life, and strengthening those who believe in him. But we must approach them with humble faith.

Many people in the crowd touched Jesus' cloak that day; St Mark tells us specifically that the crowd "pressed upon him." And yet, only one woman accessed Christ's healing power, because her humility unlocked her faith. Today, as Jesus offers himself for us and to us in this Mass, let's offer ourselves to him in return, humbly, full of faith in his omnipotent goodness, so that his grace can work new wonders in us.
