Field Trip and Travel Regulations for High School and Junior High Students in Youth Ministry, Religious Education, and Catholic School Programs

Catholic Archdiocese of Oklahoma City

Go Make Disciples
Mission

Fieldtrips provide an opportunity to enrich the academic, intellectual, social, and formative experiences of young people. Students encounter new people, new learning and are offered a means to apply real world experiences to their personal, spiritual, and academic development. It is through going out into the world that we encounter the presence of Christ at work in our midst.

This handbook is designed for use in Youth Ministry, Religious Education and Catholic Schools. As you can see from the title, it is designed to address the needs of students in grades six through twelve. Although young children benefit from fieldtrips, it is our contention that overnight travel and extended experiences are to be limited to older students.

Furthermore, all adults who work with youth, whether employed by the Church or volunteering, must bear in mind their role to serve as an example of Christ's love and care. In other words, you are a catechist, one who echoes the faith. All of our actions must be prudent, unselfish and focused on the moral and spiritual formation of the young people for whom we are responsible.

Definitions

Day Trip: A day trip is an off-site excursion which requires students and catechists to leave their typical meeting place. A permission slip is required if students are going somewhere other than their typical meeting site, regardless of the length of time or duration of the trip.

Extended Trips: Extended trips are overnight and off site.

Overnight Stays: Overnight stays for young people can also occur at the ministry location at the parish or school. One example would be a lock-in. Rules for supervision and chaperoning contained in these regulations are applicable to overnight stays as well as extended trips.

Camping: Camping includes staying at a camp site overnight either in cabins, sleeping outdoors in sleeping bags, tents, or recreational vehicles.
Statement of Risk

Although extended trips are beneficial, they also present the potential for accidents and risk. More people, more travel, more time a way, equals greater potential for risk. However, clearly stated, standardized operating procedures and practices mitigate risk to young people, chaperones and persons serving in ministry.

Schools, because of their stated academic purpose, are legally required to meet a different set of educational criteria than programs which are geared toward religious education and youth ministry. Criteria for schools is clearly delineated in this manual.

Field Trip Standards

- All field trips must have a clear educational and formational purpose. Teachers in schools are required to provide the principal with a written explanation of the trip’s educational and formational purpose.

- Parents and students should not be informed of the trip until it has been approved by the appropriate supervisor.

- Overnight trips involving Junior High students,(grades 6 through 8) are to be limited.

- Trips which require students to miss more than two days of school are to be scheduled during breaks, such as Fall Break, Spring Break, and summer.

- All trips involving international travel will be limited to high school students, and must have prior approval from the appropriate ministry office at the Archdiocesan level.

Responsibilities of Ministry Leaders

All events and outings, whether taking place within the boundaries of the Archdiocese or outside its boundaries, must be carefully planned. The plan (Standing Operating Procedure, or SOP) should be written. The creation of the plan (or SOP) includes:
• assessing the risks inherent in the particular event

• ensuring leadership by persons who have been screened and educated in the Safe Environment Process.

• ensuring that other adult chaperones are present in adequate numbers and are themselves appropriately trained and supervised

• avoiding isolated activity between/among minors and adults outside of a group setting. Consequently, the design of activities should discourage exclusivity between young people and between young people and adults.

• enhancing accountability, with clear consequences for failure to follow the plan

• creating channels for feedback and correction if high risk behaviors of any type are observed.
Code of Ethics for Youth Ministry Leaders

Although this document was created by the National Federation for Catholic Youth Ministry, this code of ethics should be used by all persons volunteering and working with young people in both parish and school programs.

General Employee and Volunteer Requirements

All volunteers, employees, and clergy must have a current criminal history background check, signed Code of Conduct and documentation of having received safe environment education.

- Supervision Ratios for overnight and out of town trips:
  - For High School Students, the ratio of adults to youth should be one adult per six youths.
  - For Junior High Students the ratio of adults should be one adult for every four students.

- All personnel must be educated in the “Standing Operating Procedures” in effect for the trip or event. Written materials should supplement the oral presentation. The trip leader and other supervising personnel should be clearly designated. An Attestation should be created for personnel to sign, acknowledging that this training has been received and understood.

- Adults or chaperones shall not at any time purchase questionable or illegal items for a minor (examples: cigarettes, alcohol, drugs, weapons, condoms, and sexually-suggestive materials) and shall report the possession and/or attempt to purchase or share with youth these items to the trip or event leader.

- The pastor or principal, or his or her delegate, must approve all chaperones of each individual event.

- No adult who has been convicted of or is undergoing legal prosecution for any criminal act involving sexual misconduct with a minor is to be allowed to chaperone any minors or to serve or minister in any other capacity in the church or school.

- Avoid placing yourself in situations in which your actions are not witnessed. It is the policy to have more than one adult present before, during and after youth activities. For instance, if a volunteer needs to drive a young person home at night another adult should accompany the driver.

- There are times when privacy is necessary in talking with youth. You should meet in a public place, meeting in view of others, etc.
• Use of tobacco, including smoking, should not be done in the presence of young people.

• Use of alcohol by chaperones is not permitted during the duration of the activity either in the presence of young people or out of sight. In addition alcohol should not be consumed prior to and event or before travel.

• Abuse, intentional or unintentional, cannot be tolerated. Abuse includes physical, verbal or emotional, (humiliate, degrade, threaten), or sexual (exposure or inappropriate touching). The Archdiocesan Code of Conduct adopts the State of Oklahoma’s definition of abuse. Additionally, for the purposes of the Code of Conduct, “abuse” shall include the acquisition, possession or distribution of pornographic images of a minor by any person.

• Young people of all races, religions, and cultures should be treated with equal respect and consideration.

• Positive techniques of guidance, including positive reinforcement and encouragement should be used rather than competition, comparison or criticism.

• Profanity should never be used.

• Care should be taken that any sign of affection is appropriate and cannot be misconstrued.

• Live your life according to the way Jesus calls us to live.

• Live according to the teachings of the Catholic Church in regards to marriage and morality.

• Be consistent with not only enforcing the rules, but also in following the rules.

• Confidentiality must be observed at all times regarding the teens except in case of crises including but not limited to (threat of suicide, child abuse, sexual abuse, alcohol use, teen-age pregnancy, and drug use).

- Have another adult volunteer with you at all times. You should never be alone with a youth.

- NEVER say, act, or behave in a way that could be interpreted by anyone as a sexual advance or as sexual abuse toward any youth, regardless of the circumstances or the youth’s gender.

- Never discipline in anger or with humiliations towards a youth.

- If a volunteer’s behavior is in conflict with the teachings of the Church, the adult volunteer should be asked to leave.

The Church needs you, your enthusiasm, your creativity and the joy that is so characteristic of you.

Requirements for Planning Activities

Events Where Alcohol is Served

All chaperones at youth activities must refrain from drinking alcoholic beverages before and during activities where youth are present. Alcohol should never be served or consumed by chaperones at any event where young people are present. “During” means and includes the period until the youth activity, trip or event is over and the youth are no longer under the supervision of the chaperone.

Chaperones should not consume alcohol during a youth event even if the young people are not in sight. This includes private drinking in a chaperone’s room and public drinking in the hotel bar or elsewhere.

Because consumption of alcohol impairs judgment and motor skills, chaperones who have been drinking place young people at risk as they are unable to react or foresee danger to children. Chaperones must always be prepared to effectively react and protect children during an activity or trip.

Movies

Caution must be taken when viewing any movies that may contain any violence or sexually explicit content. In addition to using the movie rating system, movies should be checked on the USCCB movie page for additional reviews and for the USCCB rating. Also, adults and chaperones should watch and screen movies prior to showing them to youth.

Technology

Those who minister and work in pastoral settings must take great care to be consistent in representing the values and teachings of the Catholic Church. See Technology Guidelines on the Archdiocesan web site http://www.archokc.org

• All drivers must have written directions and should be familiar with the area to which they will be traveling.
• When traveling in a caravan, drivers should not digress from the agreed upon route. No side trips may occur.
• On long trips, a relief driver must be available at least every eight hours. All drivers should have adequate rest before and after travel.
