

“Fr. George, I wish this Holy Week to be a special one for all of us and especially for your children. I send you this icon to teach them a lesson and understand their relationship with our Lord. Blessed Holy Week and Blessed Pascha.” – His Eminence Metropolitan Alexios of Atlanta

On Holy Monday, His Eminence Metropolitan Alexios sent Fr. George the above message which he used in his sermon during the Nymphios Service on April 26th. What a timely message from our Bishop encouraging us to teach our children so that they can know and recognize our Savior, Jesus Christ. Special thanks to our parents who brought their children tonight to worship and learn about God and His unconditional and sacrificial love for us. We also appreciate our children viewing the live streaming video of tonight’s service with their parents. Fr. George distributed child-sized Palm Crosses to our children and every family as they departed as a reminder of our Holy Week journey together.
